UNDERWOOD SHY NO LONGER; GOES IN RING WITH ALL

Charges Harding with Drifting.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 5.—(Special.)—Senator Oscar Underwood (Ind.) is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President.

He has no doubt on that score when he heard today some reflections on his recent observations in Europe, which constitute the foreign policy plank of the platform on which he will seek the nomination.

As a candidate as he is to the conservative Democracy, the wet Democracy, and the anti-Wilson Democracy, which he has shown at San Francisco, Mr. Underwood, in the statement he issued today, takes an attitude on international questions in line with that of Woodrow Wilson and the Wilson Democracy generally.

See Harding Is Drifting.

Mr. Underwood complains that the House today, having rejected the League of Nations covenant and "put nothing in its place," is doing nothing to rehabilitate Europe, which is going from bad to worse and may soon be plunged into another war, which we are doing nothing to avert. He charges the Harding administration with having no policy except one of drifting.

"The world must," the senator thinks, "be with enough in its way; but, to rescue Europe from chaos, and improve government machinery, a wise and constructive policy is needed, not the hazy notion of a crusade, or 'What the policy should be he does not undertake to say."

War Vain without Peace.

"I believe," said the senator, "that the American people in their heart of hearts still believe that the sacrifices of the war were in vain if they do not lead to the ultimate peace of the world. There are more causes of war existing in Europe today than there were in January, 1914. They may not be so obvious. Let us hope with all our hearts that this may prove to be true, but if it does it will not be because the cause of war is not standing at the water door. It will not be because the water door is closed."

"I cannot believe that the people of America have forgotten their pledges to aid in securing the peace of the world."

U. S. Without Policy Now.

"Our nation can do more than any other great country today, because of its isolated position, its unselfish position, when the war closed, and its great moral powers, to establish permanent peace, but we are doing nothing for the peace of Europe. Our government seems paralyzed. We seem to be standing in respect to the peace of Europe without a policy, without courage of conviction, without anything that goes to make a government a government. We seem to be just observing and drifting, at least so far as the public is allowed to know. We have a policy or a conviction in the peace and development of Europe, but it must be hidden."

Mr. Underwood said that it is not necessary for us, to "become partners in either war or peace with the nations of Europe in order that we may have policy looking to the ultimate peace of the world and rehabilitation of shattered domestic conditions," and it will be so, "because we have a policy and have the courage to express it, that we must go to war."

Europe's Distress U. S. Loan.

"The producers of America cannot prosper unless our surplus agricultural production finds a ready sale in the markets of Europe; for the sale of our wheat, wheat, and cotton not only means for the farmers but also means a home market for the output of our mills and factories," the senator continued.

"There can be no doubt that Europe needs our surplus agricultural products, and often wants them badly. There is hardly less doubt that under the present conditions each year finds it harder for the European buyers to find the purchase price. It must, then, be essential to all that distressed European conditions in the European market, bring distress and disaster to our people at home."

"Most of this might have been avoided if we had played our part in the great war closed, but we failed. We rejected the treaty of Versailles and have put nothing in its place."

"It has been suggested that we may we purchase and redeem our short-term bonds by becoming a member of the League of Nations, or some other international body. I might say that courts are organized to determine the rights of the parties to the controversy and that the law or established principle should be used as far as possible. I do not see how we can establish a principle which makes the law or establish the principle, certainly not the court."

THE CHANGING WORLD

BURNS TO DEATH AS PLANE FALLS

Charles J. Arnold, a student flyer, was burned to death and his instructor, Harry Richard, was seriously injured shortly before 7 o'clock last night when a plane in which they were flying crashed to the ground from a height of less than 200 feet at 83d street and Koln avenue and burst into flames when it grazed some electric light wires.

Arnold, who was learning to fly the plane which he had purchased two months ago, was strapped in the forward cockpit and unable to extricate himself.

Richard was not fastened and leaped clear of the burning wreckage as the plane struck. He was removed to St. Bernard's hospital suffering from internal injuries.

Arnold was in the aviation section of the navy during the war, but was not an aviator. He was 25 years old and formerly lived at 2325 North California avenue. Until two months ago, when he bought the plane from the James Levy Aircraft company, 2053 Indiana avenue, he was employed as foreman of mechanics for the Milwaukee Avenue Motor Sales company, 2504 Milwaukee avenue.

Not Licensed Pilot.

He had the plane taken to the field of the Chicago Air Park company, 62d street and Cicero avenue, and Richard, who it is said, is not a licensed pilot, was assigned as his instructor by Capt. J. A. Young, who operates a flying school there.

Yesterday, the pair had been flying for nearly two hours when, according to Richard, Arnold, who was driving, attempted to bank at too sharp an angle and the plane slipped and went into a tail spin. Richard said he grabbed the controls, but was too late to right the plane.

Harian Brown, living at 62d street and Knox avenue, witnessed the accident. Brown ran up to the machine, just as Richard staggered out. He saw Arnold strapped in the cockpit and attempted to reach him.

"For God's sake, help me," shouted Arnold, but before he could reach him the flames had enveloped him.

DANGLED STATE JOBS AT PANEL, TWO TESTIFY

Identify Courtney in Waukegan Trial.

Waukegan, Ill., July 5.—(Special.)—State jobs were offered to two men named for jury service in the trial of Gov. Small a year ago they testified here today. Their testimony followed the claim of State Attorney A. V. Smith in his opening statement in the trial of Edward Courtney, Edward Kaufman, and John H. Fields, charged with conspiracy to corrupt the small jury.

The evidence would show that six jurors who voted for Gov. Small's acquittal were later put on the state payroll.

Thomas E. Somerville, a baker of Antioch, Ill., pointed out Courtney in the courtroom as the man who approached him after he had been subpoenaed as a witness. Joseph Hahn, an ice maker, also called on the jury but not chosen, said two men, accompanied by William J. Miller, a Chicago lawyer, told him he could get a job from the governor later on.

Somerville was a surprise witness. Courtney was a surprise witness. He said that until three days ago he had not told State Attorney Smith of the offer. His direct examination in part follows:

Q—Were you called to serve as a juror in the trial of Gov. Small? A—Yes, I was subpoenaed but they had the jury completed before it was my turn to be called.

Q—Did any one talk to you about the case after you had been subpoenaed? A—Yes, a day or so later a man came to where I was helping out in a new building we were putting up. Q—Who was he? A—There he is, that man just behind you.

He identified Courtney.

Courtney was asked to stand up by his attorneys, W. O'Brien and William Scott Stewart. He did so and the witness said: "That's the man, Courtney."

Q—What did he say to you? A—First he talked about the building. Finally he asked if I were going to Waukegan soon for jury service. I said I was going Monday. He asked to what political party I belonged and I told him. Then he asked what I thought about the case. I replied I didn't know. He said it was all a political fight, that Brundage and small were cutting each other's throats. He said: "If you get on the jury and stick by the governor, I have charge of state jobs and I'll see you get one."

Q—Did you see him again? A—Yes, I saw him in a saloon at Antioch, with Kaufman and Birnie Fields.

Q—By Birnie Fields you mean this defendant, John B. Fields? A—Yes.

The witness was turned over to Attorney Stewart for cross-examination.

Q—You've been in an insane asylum? A—Yes.

The reply came simultaneously with an objection by Assistant State Attorney S. H. Block. Judge Hopkins ruled that the answer might be stricken out.

Q—When were you in Elgin? Another objection and attorneys for the defense were told they could not pursue this line of questioning.

Identifies Name of Trial.

After Hahn had told of the offer that Courtney, Birnie Fields and Kaufman had made him if he remembered seeing him (O'Brien) before. When he said he did, O'Brien and some other men had asked permission to fish in his hole a few months ago. O'Brien said Kaufman had been with him and asked the witness if he appeared to be one of the men who were with Riker. Hahn replied that he could not tell, but didn't think so. He had not been asked by the state to identify any of the defendants.

In his opening statement, Prosecutor Smith said he expected to prove that Courtney and Kaufman had asked Riker to introduce them to Fields before he responded to the jury summons. He declared the evidence would show that Kaufman and Courtney promised Fields $1,000 and a state job for a not guilty verdict in the governor's case, and that he got the job, county game warden, but that Riker had only given him $250 of the $1,000.

Third Party Splits When Reds Prevail

The conference of minority parties called here to form a third party for 1934, which might throw its support to Henry Ford for president, was completely captured last night by the violent Reds and communists. They rode roughshod over the Farmer-Labor delegates, constituting the conservative wing of the gathering.

The radicals frankly showed their affection for the third international of Russia and decisively defeated a move to bar from the Federated Farmer-Labor party, which was formed yesterday, any faction affiliated with the international.

Farmer-Labor Men Bolt.

As a result, it is expected that most of the Farmer-Labor delegates will bolt the conference today, where they meet in their own previously called convention.

The first onslaught of the communists came in the afternoon, when Farmer-Labor delegates objected to the organization committee's platform. The farmer delegates caucused and presented a substitute platform, providing that any organization connected with the Moscow government could not belong to the Federated Farmer-Labor party. With jeers for the conservatives and cheers for Moscow this was voted down decisively. From then on the gathering was in the hands of the Reds.

Farmer-Labor delegates charged last night many of the delegates to the conference from trade union organizations had been surreptitiously chosen by communistic cabals within the unions.

Chicago Leaders Hissed.

John Fitzpatrick, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, former Ald. H. M. Dock, and former Ald. W. A. Harrison, were hissed and booed by the extreme radicals from dominating the conference. They asserted the issue was "Do you recognize communism or do you not?" All three were repeatedly hissed and booed.

Admit Plan to Bolt.

Late last night some minority group prepared to name one of its members to the executive committee of the Federated Farmer-Labor party. When the Farmer-Labor delegates were called on to name their representative they declined to do so at once. They announced that the election would be made at their own convention today. This, it is freely admitted, swaggers their bolt from the new party.

Following this, various resolutions were passed, most of them radical. A typical resolution was one calling for recognition for soviet Russia.

Another proposed to "drive militarism from the schools."

FIND GOVERNANCE SLAIN IN LONELY COUNTRY HOUSE

New York, July 5.—(Special.)—Westchester county was stirred today by the discovery of the murder of Miss Dorothy Kaufman, a pretty Mennonite governess. She was stabbed to death some time between 1 and 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon while she was alone in the country home of Magruder Crishead in Underhill road near Greenburgh.

The crime was discovered by Madeline Harmer, daughter of a neighborly early Wednesday morning when she returned from a dance to spend the night with Miss Kaufman.

Acting on information furnished by witnesses who had seen a Negro loitering near the Crishead home, the authorities have become active.

They also are giving attention to a theory that Miss Kaufman might have met her death at the hands of a man whose attentions had been disapproved. This theory grew out of the autopsy report that Miss Kaufman had not been sexually abused.

Difficulty in Arresting Change.

"I am impressed that in the resolute of the report great weight should be attached to the fact that in the present shortage of labor it would cripple our entire property if the change were abruptly made. In the hope that this question could be disposed of I am wondering if it would not be possible for the steel industry to consider giving an undertaking that before there shall be any reduction in the staff or employees of the industry through any recession of demand for steel product, or at any time when there is a surplus of labor available, that then the change should be made from the two shift to the three shift basis."

"I cannot but believe that such an undertaking would give great satisfaction to the American people as a whole and would indeed establish pride and confidence in the ability of our industries themselves to solve matters which are so conclusively advocated by the public."

STEEL MEN GIVE HARDING PLEDGE ON 12 HOUR DAY

Abandoned 'if Labor Is Available.'

Tacoma, Wash., July 5.—(By The Associated Press.)—President Harding made public here today correspondence between himself and the directors of the American Iron and Steel Institute in which the latter announced that "the large majority of the steel manufacturers have undertaken to abolish the twelve hour day at the earliest moment that the additional labor required shall be available."

The "pledge" of the steel manufacturers, the President said, "would be welcomed by our people as a whole and would be received as a great boon by American workers."

The letter to President Harding was signed by Elbert H. Gary, John A. Topping, W. A. Hovest, W. H. Danner, W. J. Filbert, E. A. Clark, James A. Farrell, E. G. Grace, Willis L. King, James A. Burden, L. E. Black, Severn P. Ker, J. A. Campbell, A. C. Dinkley, and Charles M. Schwab, directors of the American Iron and Steel Institute.

Text of Letter to President.

It was as follows:

"Careful consideration has been given to your letter of June 13 by the undersigned directors of the American Iron and Steel Institute, comprising all of those whose attendance could be secured at this time.

"The Institute has a long and honorable record of cooperation with the government in the administration of the twelve hour day, and this we do not underestimate. On account of this sentiment, and especially because it is in accordance with your own expressed views, we are determined to exert every effort at our command to secure in the iron and steel industry of this country a total abolition of the twelve hour day at the earliest time practicable.

"Can't Make Change Overnight."

"This means the employment of large numbers of workmen on an eight hour basis and all others on a basis of ten hours or less. Without an unjustifiable interruption to operations the change cannot be effected overnight. It will involve many adjustments, some of them complicated and difficult, but we think that we brought about without undue delay of the past state it, 'there is a surplus of labor available.'"

"The iron and steel manufacturers generally of the United States, outside of the directors referred to, are expected to concur in the conclusion reached by the directors as above stated."

Harding's Letter to Gary.

President Harding's letter, written on June 13, had followed the public report of the Iron and Steel Institute of its investigation of the twelve hour day in the steel industry. President Harding at that time wrote Mr. Gary as follows:

"I have now had an opportunity of reading the full report of the committee of the Iron and Steel Institute on the question of the abolition of the twelve hour day in the steel industry. As I have stated before, I am, of course, disappointed that no conclusive arrangement was proposed for determination of what must be manifestly accepted as a practice that should be accepted in American industry. I will endeavor to do all that I can to bring about a change in the steel industry, but I am not sure that the change should be made from the two shift to the three shift basis."

"I cannot but believe that such an undertaking would give great satisfaction to the American people as a whole and would indeed establish pride and confidence in the ability of our industries themselves to solve matters which are so conclusively advocated by the public."

Let The Tribune follow you on your vacation

The daily Tribune (six days per week) will be mailed to you anywhere in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin for fifty cents per month.

Each subscription must be accompanied by remittance or you may place order with your carrier.

We are up and down the line of living conditions in the land. We are constantly striving for better conditions which will give us a better life. I am able today to give promise of a very notable forward step. It is my firm belief that one of the great avenues of progress in American life lies in the constant recognition by American industry of its obligations to our society as a whole, and that many of our most successful moves in social progress are made through the voluntary action of industry itself in ameliorating those hardships which have come from the rapid growth of industry.

Additional Labor a Condition
It is very gratifying therefore to be able to announce an important step in such progress. It shows consideration from the large majority of steel manufacturers of America in which they have undertaken to abolish the twelve hour day in the American steel industry at the earliest convenient date. The additional labor required shall be available.

Early in the administration, feeling that a twelve hour working day was an anachronism in American life, I suggested to the steel industry that they should appoint a committee to develop methods for its abolition.

I wish to congratulate the steel industry on this important step. It will lead to more American industrial life which has been the cause of struggle and bitterness for over a generation. It is a mark of accomplishment for the conscience of industry itself—a recognition of responsibility from employer to employee.

It is an example that I trust the few other contributory processes in industry which still maintain the twelve hour shift may rapidly follow.

U. S. OFFICIALS SEE END OF TROUBLE OVER SHIP RAIDS

Washington, D. C., July 5.—[Special.]—Belief is growing among treasury officials that difficulties arising from the ship liquor regulations are being solved satisfactorily and that any danger of acute international complications has passed.

Two outstanding reasons are given for this attitude. One is the apparent fact that foreign ship lines for the most part have concluded to make no longer an objection to the regulations by importing excessive quantities of liquor within the American three mile limit.

The other is the fact that British authorities apparently recognize more clearly than they did of the effect the position of the United States government in insisting upon the regulations.

To some extent, this perhaps in a substantial degree, the explanation of the position of the United States government by British General James M. Beck of the department of justice at the annual independence day dinner of the American society in London last night is said to have had a mollifying effect. His statement that the liquor embargo would not have been imposed on foreign ships if it had not been for deliberate and constant violation of the American laws is held to have struck an important keynote.

HARDING SAILS INTRENCHED AS G. O. P. LEADER

BY GRAFTON WILCOX

Tacoma, Wash., July 5.—[Special.]—President Harding and his official party sailed from this port for Alaska at 2 o'clock this afternoon on board the U. S. S. Henderson naval transport.

The trip of the presidential party to Alaska will be an historic page in the life of the nation. It is the first time that a president has sailed from this port for Alaska.

The President added his tour of the west and middle west to "get in touch with the people" with an address half an hour before sailing time. In this address the President gave every assurance that he has been much pleased with the result of his speaking tour across the continent.

Results of Tour to Coast
President Harding has accomplished four important things on this tour that stand out above everything else concerned therewith.

1. The President made himself the actual as well as the titular leader of the Republican party.

2. He has assured his renomination for the presidency next year by the Republican National convention.

3. He has outlined the basis of many improvement plans of the forthcoming Republican platform upon which he will stand for reelection to the presidency.

4. He has, he consistently believes, crossed the interest of the people of the middle west and west in his proposal for America to participate in the world court.

Has Patched Up Fences
Although the President insisted from the beginning that he was not making a partisan trip, he has been doing a great deal of work for his administration and, incidentally, for the Republican party.

Whatever may be the ultimate political effect of this expedition upon Mr. Harding, it is the opinion among political leaders who have discussed the President's influence as he passed along that he has prevented a threatened party division and patched up a lot of rickety Republican fences.

The President, as he left here, was very happy. He believes he has succeeded in explaining convincingly to the people his idea of what American participation in the world court will mean. The majority of the people to whom he has talked appeared to agree with him. Because he believes his trip has been successful, Mr. Harding was in good humor as he emerged from the role of spokesman and boarded ship for Alaska to become an investigator. Now he wants to learn how Alaska's great resources can be developed and why its development has been checked for more than a decade.

Early this morning at Centralia, Wash., the President ordered his train stopped and was driven in a drizzling rain to two cemeteries, where he placed wreaths on the graves of the four American Legion men slain at Centralia by I. W. W. on Armistice day, 1918.

HARDING'S SEA TRIP

Tacoma, Wash., July 5.—[By the Associated Press.]—The first stop of the U. S. S. Henderson, on which President Harding's party sailed today for Alaska, will be at Ketchikan. Then the Henderson will go on to Wrangell. Arriving at Juneau July 10, the party next goes to Skagway. Then their day up the Alaskan railroad to Anchorage, Chickofan, Nenana, and Fairbanks in 200 miles of the Arctic circle. At the Tanana river bridge the President will drive the golden spike completing the railroad. The return southward will be by motor over the Richardson trail to the Copper River and North-western railroad at Chitina, then to Cordova, then Sitka, where the chief executive will sail for Vancouver.

LONDON'S FOOD SUPPLY MENACED BY DOCK STRIKE

BY THOMAS RYAN
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

LONDON, July 5.—[Tribune Radio.]—England's spontaneous dock strike assumed alarming proportions today, threatening London's bread supply.

London is reported to have only one week's supply of wheat on hand. Chilled meat prices went up 1 shilling per cwt. even possible today.

More dock workers struck today in London, making the total out have 15,000. The strike has spread to other ports, notably Manchester, where 7,000 men are out.

The total on strike in England is 40,000.

Though denounced by their own union leaders, the strikers receive moral support from other workers. The railway men in Hull refuse to handle goods unloaded by strike breakers.

Train workers visited London's dock district today, addressing the strikers and declaring that unless the strike is soon settled all transport workers will strike in sympathy. Workers of all sorts have volunteered to serve food to the strikers.

It Seems Something Bit Walsh; He's Done with It
Bobo, a South American myrmecophile, longing for the formicaries of Lincoln park and infuriated at the scarcity of embezzles along North State street, ran amuck in the apartment of its owner, Stephen Walsh, at 804 North State street, yesterday and hit Mr. Walsh in the left thigh. Blood poisoning set in and Walsh was removed to the County hospital. Mrs. Walsh says she is going to send Bobo back to the Lincoln park zoo to graze once more the collection of ant eaters.

GARY WORKERS SAY THEY DON'T WANT 12 HOURS

This is the second of a series of articles about the twelve hour day in the steel industry, written by a member of the staff of the New York Daily News, who was assigned to work as a laborer to the United States Steel corporation's mill at Homestead, Pa.

BY INDUSTRIALIST

Some of the twelve hour workmen of the United States Steel corporation declare that Chairman E. E. Gary's assertion that they demand twelve hours' labor a day is not in accordance with the facts.

He has made the statement many times. On May 25 he reported that sentiment for abolition of the twelve hour day was not "created or imposed by the workmen themselves." Workmen are arguing that the men should not be permitted to work so long even if they do so desire. The workmen accept Mr. Gary's statements as true. They have not worked in his mills.

Want Eight Hour Shift
The workmen do not want the twelve hour shift. They want to work eight hours. They are willing to accept pay for eight hours.

One hundred twelve hour laborers, chosen at random, declared this attitude. The voice of "Johnson," second helper, is that of them all. Let him testify:

"You have an easy job at the furnace, they say?"

"That's Judge Gary's bunk. Haven't you been here long enough?"

"The Reporter: 'Judge Gary says you men like to work twelve hours and get more money.'"

"Johnson: 'Judge Gary's not telling the truth. Men in other mills are making as much working eight hours as we are in twelve. Give me the eight hour; I'll take a chance at getting raised.'"

"He had us working here for twelve hours for $1.40 a day once. It's been his dream ever since. Only now he can't get in enough workers."

See Men Like Twelve Hours.
These men are so afraid of losing their jobs that they contributed a few weeks ago when money was being raised in the mill for a public hospital. They saved secretly at the homes for coming with subscription cards, but signed rather than got in hand. They felt that the "corporation with a soul" should provide its own hospitalization. The fact that Gary gave $10,000 did not relieve their feelings.

"Only one man questioned said he would voluntarily work twelve hours. This was Marbo, the Serbian, laboring on a ten hour shift."

"Here, twelve hours. More work, more money." He shrugged his shoulders. He is a little man, of back broadened by many years of common labor, of eyes and teeth selectively neglected, of an earnest, like underwear, stoic to him and the sweat up seams appear through a shirt scuffed with grease.

"I work all time, one hour, two hours overtime. All the same. Make 724 week. Give to wife. She spends on baby. More work, more eat. All the time broke. We no strike when others strike. We mind boss. We have good job all time. Me earn 40 cents an hour. Mike earn 40 cents an hour. Pineapple earn 40 cents an hour."

FUGITIVE ROBBER CAUGHT.
A South-Western express passenger, police from the detective bureau captured Frank Hunter, 31, wanted to serve a sentence of from one to fifteen years in connection with the robbery of the Stockman's Trust and Savings bank in 1915, when $15,000 was obtained.

FRENCH PL TAKE BER BRITAIN

Ruhr Troops Strike B

BY RAYMOND
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
PARIS, July 5.—The French government has received word from the Ruhr that the French and Belgian troops are being ordered to leave the Ruhr.

The reason for the order is a general strike and the central government's refusal to honor its obligations to the French and Belgian troops.

The Journal des Debats says that the occupation of Berlin is a mistake.

"If we see our situation as it should be, we should not take measures more severe in Germany. We government and people honor to believe that no consideration will be given before the German Ruhr. We will not be beaten in the Ruhr."

Would Jump Off
In face of the return of the Ruhr, the warning that newspapers must not make official statements is sufficient.

Troops for the occupation of the Ruhr, the most advanced point of occupation, with direct lines.

Various plans, preparation of Berlin before the armistice, called for on the German capital. Under the present circumstances, probably would stages unless the situation was falling.

French troops recently the outskirts of France, important rail center, and the Ruhr, it is believed.

Act If British
A break between France and Britain over reparations tonight, would probably immediate advance on the French general.

In the event of such a move would start a wide offensive against the Ruhr and Rhineland, and the war would be found.

Army leaders believe that was made at the armistice in not occupying the Ruhr, the mistake made for Germany will run.

FRENCH PLAN TO TAKE BERLIN IF BRITAIN BREAKS

Ruhr Troops Ready to Strike Blow.

BY RAYMOND FENDRICK.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1923, by The Chicago Tribune.)

PARIS, July 5.—The movement in favor of the occupation of Berlin by French and Belgian troops is rapidly crystallizing.

The reason for the occupation would be a general strike and the overthrow of the central government of Germany or separate British reparations negotiations with Germany.

The Journal des Debats refers to the occupation of Berlin tonight, when it says:

"If we see our vital interests threatened we should inevitably be forced to take measures more and more so-called."

"We beg the British government and people to have the honor to believe us when we affirm that a consideration will make us give way before the German opposition in the Ruhr. We will not allow ourselves to be beaten in the Ruhr."

World Jump Off from Ruhr.

Is that of the reluctance of Quai d'Orsay, the warning of this important newspaper must be taken as the most official statement available, but it is sufficient.

Troops for the occupation would jump off from the Ruhr, which is the most advanced point of the allied occupation, with direct rail lines to Berlin.

Various plans, prepared for the occupation of Berlin before and since the occupation of the Ruhr, have been in the hands of the German government. Under the present circumstances the advance probably would be made by stages unless the situation became urgent and the central government was falling.

French troops recently advanced to the outskirts of Frankfurt and this important rail center would be occupied quickly, it is believed.

As if British Break Comes.

A break between France and Great Britain over reparations, it was stated tonight, would probably necessitate an immediate advance on Berlin.

The French general staff believes, in the event of such a break, the Germans would start a widespread guerrilla warfare against the troops in the Ruhr and Rhineland. Plans for such guerrilla warfare already have been found.

Army leaders believe a great mistake was made at the time of the armistice in not occupying Berlin, and that the mistake must be repaired before Germany will completely surrender.

That is Great Britain's attitude toward France now, whatever it may have been before the French ambassador delivered his "vague, unsatisfactory" verbal statement Tuesday.

Dr. N. S. Davis III. has been elected secretary of the Municipal Voters' league to succeed Herbert J. Friedman, whose term has expired.

awaits as the next logical step a written note from Paris stating explicitly how France intends to conduct the Ruhr occupation, but has not received any intimation of such a note being prepared except stories in the Paris press.

Entente Close to Rocks.

Although Prime Minister Baldwin today told the house of commons that a verbal discussion was proceeding, Comte de St. Austre did not visit Lord Curzon today. Politicians and business men agree that the entente never was nearer the rocks.

So delicate is the situation that Mr. Baldwin refused today to tell the house of commons what is the government's policy and what will be its reply to France. Ramsay MacDonald, laborite, asked the prime minister if he was aware that this is an important element.

Mr. Baldwin replied: "I assure the house that no one is more aware of it than I."

FRENCH ATTACKED

BY PAUL WILLIAMS.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1923, by The Chicago Tribune.)

DUSSELDORF, July 5.—Thirty Germans attacked French railway workers last night at Essen. The railroad men fired into the air, but were overwhelmed. One received a serious stab wound.

The unemployed, who are now receiving 53,000 marks daily and are demanding an increased bonus of 300,000 marks, held a demonstration in front of the town hall in Essen today. They were dispersed by the new blue police, organized under French regulations.

French troops entered the Reichsbank in Essen with the employees this morning, and this and all other banks closed immediately. The Germans report the Reichsbank contained enough money for their needs for four days. About 1,000,000,000 marks was seized by the French today from banks in various cities in the occupied territory. The seizure and the closing of the Reichsbank are resulting in a shortage of money.

PLEA TO KEEP UP HUNT FOR GRAFT MADE BY M. V. L.

Attempt to Save Aldermen Charged by League.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Dr. N. S. Davis III, new secretary of the Municipal Voters' league, issued a vigorous plea yesterday for a continuation of the city hall graft investigation.

"The grand jury is boring into a mass of evidence relating to aldermanic graft on street and alley vacations, promotions, contracts, etc.," reads the appeal. "If this inquiry is stopped by political pull, the people of Chicago and Cook county will receive the worst defeat in their history."

This came in the face of a meeting this afternoon in the county board finance committee who are expected—forecast in this TRIBUNE last week—to refuse to appropriate any more cash for the inquiry. Hayden N. Bull and William M. Duval, attorneys for the board, have written opinions asserting that it would be illegal to appropriate after the first quarter of the fiscal year has passed.

County Action Is Hinted.

These opinions will probably be read at the committee meeting. A clerk from the office of Attorney Timothy Fell was copying vouchers yesterday already paid in the inquiry and a report was circulated that he contemplated some sort of court action. Unless money is appropriated Assistant Attorney General Frederick Brown said the inquiry will stop this evening.

"There are two ways of driving rotten aldermen out of the city council," the ballot box and the jury box," reads the Davis statement. It goes on to say that "many worthless aldermen, but not enough, were driven out last spring. This league says 'Obey, shortighted, selfish politics inferred' then and 'now politics—cheap, selfish politics—is again hard at work trying to obstruct further investigation by the grand jury.'"

How Tribune Was Collected.

"It is said that Chicago has lost some big industries which would not pay tribute in order to get facilities for doing business. Sometimes tribute has been demanded in the form of campaign contributions; possibly sometimes in the guise of attorney's fees."

George F. Liebrandt, president of the Lincoln State bank, 31st and State streets, was questioned last night by the special grand jury regarding a bribe he is alleged to have paid Ald. Louis C. Anderson [2d]. Mayor Thompson's colored floor leader in the city council, for an alley vacation in 1919. Liebrandt is said to have admitted he saw Anderson in connection with the ordinance providing for the vacation and paid him $100.

Dr. Davis, the new secretary of the league, takes the place of Herbert J. Friedman, whose term had expired. Allen B. Pond, since his appointment as chairman of the appeal board on city zoning, has stepped out of the league. He has resigned as vice president and member of the executive committee, and Mrs. E. N. Rose has been elected to the former position. Joseph E. Otis, president of the Central Trust company, has been elected treasurer of the league. He succeeds Edward Eagle Brown.

MISS BARRYMORE OBTAINS DIVORCE; TELLS OF ABUSE

Rich Husband Often Beat Her, Actress Says.

Providence, R. I., July 5.—(Special.)—Ethel Barrymore Colt, famous for more than a quarter of a century as an actress, was granted a divorce from her husband, Russell G. Colt, son of the late Samuel P. Colt, by Justice George W. Greene in the Superior court in this city today. Her suit was on grounds of nonsupport. Neither principal was present.

Testimony was taken by depositions, four of them being read by the actress' attorney. One was by Mrs. Colt herself, one by her maid, and the others were by John Drew, her uncle, and a Mr. Frank, her financial manager. All were read in a low voice, almost a whisper, and only fragments could be picked up by court reporters.

Ethel Keeps Three Children.

Announcement of the decision was made by Judge Greene, following a whispered conference at the bench between the court, counsel, and clerk. Under its terms Mrs. Colt is to have the care of her three children—Samuel P., John Drew, and Ethel Colt. But it is understood that Mr. Colt, under an interlocutory decree to be entered, will be allowed to have them with him at stated periods.

The divorce was granted on the ground of failure to provide support. The deposition was filed with testimony of "extreme cruelty" beginning six months after her marriage on March 14, 1909. She said that Mr. Colt had struck her on numerous occasions and as a result of "brutal treatment she suffered a nervous shock and required medical treatment."

Tells of Brutal Beating.

The testimony describing a beating which kept her from the theater for five days follows:

"I was up in my room one evening after the performance. My husband came up and I started discussing certain persons. I made a particularly unfortunate remark about a certain person."

"He was enraged at the remark and struck me on the face with something he held in his hand. He hit me again and again. He beat me terribly. Then he left the room."

"I was in such a terrible condition that I had to send for a physician. The physician attempted to fix my face, but I could not go out of my room for five days because of the swollen condition of my face and bruise of my two black eyes. I was confined to my bed part of the time."

Mrs. Colt, in her deposition, told of another battle in which her husband beat her and locked her out of her hotel room, leaving her in the corridor clad in a nightgown.

"I had to get another room in which to pass the night," she said. "I had nothing with me but the nightgown I was wearing."

The deposition by Mrs. Colt's maid substantiated the charge of assault, while those by Mr. Drew and Mr. Frank related to the actress' care of her children and financial matters.

$15,000,000 MORE NEEDED TO MEET ILLINOIS BONUS

Springfield, Ill., July 5.—(Special.)—Fifty thousand or more ex-service men of Illinois may have to wait until 1928 for their state bonus, it developed today when members of the Illinois service recognition board checked funds and applications.

If applications continue as at present, the $25,000,000 of those to be paid will be about $15,000,000 short of the amount required, according to the estimate of Adj. Gen. Carlos E. Black, and a special session of the legislature will have to be called to provide for submitting the additional appropriation to the voters.

It is estimated that Illinois has 350,000 eligible to the bonus, and conservative judges expect 300,000 of those to apply. There are now on file about 240,000 applications. Many of the veterans, it is found, are entitled to the maximum $500, and the average allowance is about $250.

ARREST BARES ANOTHER "FAKE" OF BUCKETEERS

Well Known Trade Names
Used as "Sucker" Bait.

BY DONALD EWING.

The third of the triumvirate of fakes through which bucket shops keep their fishing holes well stocked with suckers—fake or legitimate of fake stocks, sales (fake or legitimate) of fake stocks, and sales of counterfeit stock certificates of standard industries—came before state officials investigating the fly-by-night brokers when S. H. Dodson, 1067 Foster avenue, was thrown into jail yesterday.

Dodson's money getting scheme, according to complaints against him, was to print certificates of the Mexican Petroleum company, Inc., and the National Transit company, a subsidiary of Standard Oil, and either peddle them to gullible or put them up as collateral in borrowing money. Dodson, it is alleged, printed about $10,000 worth of these certificates, borrowing $800 from Nelson Brothers, realtors, 1755 Howard street, on three of $300 denomination each.

"Dummy" Company Charged.

In an effort to stay within the law, Dodson is said to have organized a dummy company in Texas, naming it the Mexican Petroleum company, but leading victims to believe that his organization was the nationally known one.

This method of trading on a well known name is a common one among the "exp. houses," information brought before state officials shows. A mass of evidence, including considerable of this type, was taken before the grand jury yesterday by Assistant State's Attorney McMillan and additional indictments against bucketeers may be returned within a few days.

One of the favorites is for a salesman to call a "friend," or prospect, and say that he is representing "Logan & Ryan." A jumbled enunciation makes it easy for the victim to think he is talking to Logan & Ryan, one of the country's biggest legitimate brokerage concerns; and with that name as an inducement he easily falls for the "oats and dogs" peddled by the bucket firms as standard stocks.

Thomas Used to Land "Suckers."

The effort in landing the sucker is minimized through the telephone, telegraph, and messenger system of the bigger bucket shops, which believe in teasing along their prospect before throwing in the hooks. Their system is not to try to sell the first time—as the little houses do—but to telephone the prospect three or four times before mentioning a transaction.

First, he is asked if he would like to receive their weekly market bulletin "containing the latest information on all stocks." Or perhaps he has answered a "free financial service" want ad which bucket shops run in some papers—not in The Tribune, for it will not accept them.

The next call is to inquire if the prospect is receiving the service and if he wants further information. Thus he is led along, and finally the big inside tip is given him. Generally he falls for it and his bank roll is thinned.

Messengers Have Flivvers.

Several Chicago firms employ as many as twenty messenger boys for this work, for their activities extend all over the county. Many of the customers live in the suburbs and some firms supply their messengers with flivvers so they can cover more ground.

Thus the customer is kept away from the office. He never sees his "solicitor," as he is taught to call the man who sells him. He knows none of the bosses by sight, and if he finally gets the water out of his eyes suddenly to see the hook beneath the bait, he finds an impass when he calls to kick.

In the bucket shop he is informed that Mr. Blank, the salesman who handled his account, has left the firm.

"We're very sorry," a suave talking official, frequently as oily in appearance as in chatter, says.

"We've had several complaints about Mr. Blank. He never turned your money in to us at all, so we can't be held responsible. He absconded with some of our money, too, and we've set detectives on his trail. We'll let you know if we get him."

BOY HIT BY TRAIN KILLS.

Struck by a Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad train on Wednesday night as he took a short cut across the tracks at Blue Island, Lester Cohen, 12 Canal and Western avenue, Blue Island, died in St. Francis hospital yesterday.

PRIEST ATTACKS CHARLES' STORY IN LUNDIN TRIAL

Gives a New Version of Payments to Davis.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Timothy C. Charles' testimony that he paid $15,000 in cash to Edwin S. Davis, former president of the school board, as a bribe to get a position on the board, was attacked yesterday by Rev. Henry L. Webster, a young Catholic clergyman, assistant pastor of St. Philip Neri church, 7300 Merrill avenue, on the witness stand late in the afternoon.

He was examined by Attorney P. H. O'Donnell.

After stating he had known Charles for three years and that the ex-coal broker had a wife and five little children, the witness said he had talked with Charles last fall before Charles went before the grand jury.

Q—Was the conversation as to Edwin S. Davis? A—Yes.

Told Charles Paid by Checks.

Q—Did he tell you how he had paid Ed Davis? A—Yes, he said he had receipts that would prove he gave Davis the money. (In his testimony in this case Charles said he put cash in envelopes and handed it to Davis.)

Q—Did he tell you how he had paid Ed Davis? A—Yes, he said he had receipts that would prove he gave Davis the money. (In his testimony in this case Charles said he put cash in envelopes and handed it to Davis.)

and he said checks. I advised him not to go before the grand jury unless he had positive evidence. It was then he said he had the receipts, or checks.

Q—Did you talk with him after his appearance before the grand jury? A—Yes, the first part of December last year. He was in a difficult position, as he had been passing worthless checks and there was a mortgage on his house and he was laboring over how to get money. He said he expected money from his attorney, Thomas J. Symmes, that Symmes was to obtain it from Mr. Barnhart (assistant attorney general prosecuting this case). He expected enough to clear him of these checks and the mortgage.

Brings In Politicians.

The witness was asked if he had another talk with Charles and replied: "Yes. Charles had been drinking heavily. He repeated what he said before about expecting money. He went to Symmes' office every day for three or four days."

Charles was to get a position also. Mr. Brundage was to place him in the prohibition department in Chicago. He showed me a letter signed by Brundage. Likewise he was to get a letter from Charlie Ringer, a Republican leader in the seventh ward, and he was also to get a letter from another individual. The third, if I am not mistaken, was from Senator McCormick asking the prohibition department to put him to work.

Attorney Hobart P. Young cross-examined. The witness said he had not been in touch with the case through his friend Attorney William C. Henry (said to be a son-in-law of Patrick H. McNamara), and Henry had taken him to O'Donnell's office.

Charles told me that he once paid Davis $2,000," said the witness. "I drew from his conversation that he paid no more than that."

Q—Was not his reference to checks a reference to the checks he drew to get money for Davis? A—There is a possibility of that.

Bad Check Victim Testifies.

Edward M. Holton, a coal dealer, 617 Wesley avenue, Oak Park, was a defense witness. He said that Charles passed several checks in his name and he had him arrested.

Q—Did you have any talk with Charles or his lawyer, Mr. Symmes, at the Englewood station? A—Yes, Symmes told me not to press the case, as Charles was going to get $5,000 from the state's attorney for testifying against Davis and Severinghaus.

Q—Did you have another talk with Charles? A—Yes, at the Englewood station he said: "What the hell is the use of pressing this case? I am going to get $3,000 bucks from the state's attorney to go to Severinghaus and Davis and I'll pay you when I get the money."

The defense, in drawing to the close of their case, put Samuel A. Etelson, former corporation counsel, on the witness stand. William Hale Thompson and Lundin go on the stand today.

Senator Etelson told of a trip to Lundin's home at Fox Lake with Jacob M. Loeb one Sunday in 1917, at the request of Loeb, who, he said, was worried about being reappointed.

As corporation counsel, the witness said, he advised with the school board as to organization under the new Otis law. He never advised with the mayor about appointments.

Thirteen aldermen and former aldermen were called by the defense to show that they had not been influenced by Lundin in voting confirmation of school board appointments. All but two were Democrats.

Three former members of the school board testified that Lundin never asked them to vote for anything, that the defendants in this case did not influence their votes and that Lundin did not have them appointed. They were James H. Rooney, Mrs. Pauline Browning and Mrs. Frances E. Thornton.

The testimony of state witnesses that the Hanson park lease to the Wisconsin Line and Cement company was undervalued, was offset by real estate experts for the defense. Harry Goldstein, president of the Chicago Real Estate board, said that a fair valuation for that tract in 1921 was $4,000 an acre. The state witnesses, members of the same board, had placed it at $15,000.

BANKRUPT IS AFTER BANKER'S

Paul W. Popp
St. Louis

A petition of involuntary bankruptcy against Paul W. Popp was filed yesterday in the federal court here by the St. Louis office of the law firm of Paul W. Popp, 1700 Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo., was the only named defendant in the petition.

Two alleged acts of fraud, it being charged, permitted creditors to sue over others who had been paid.

Paul W. Popp was a former partner in the law firm of Popp, Popp & Popp, which has since been dissolved.

Federal Judge C. J. Smith, in a hearing on the petition, said he would set aside the order of the court.

BANKRUPTCY SUIT IS AFTERMATH OF BANKER'S SUICIDE

Paul W. Popp Is Sued by St. Louis Institution.

A petition of involuntary bankruptcy against Paul W. Popp, eldest son of Fred W. Popp, president of the Logan Square Trust and Savings bank, who committed suicide several months ago, was filed yesterday in the United States District court by attorneys for the National City bank of St. Louis. It alleges Popp has no occupation, that he is insolvent, and asks that he be declared a bankrupt.

Paul W. Popp was cashier of the Logan Square Trust and Savings bank when his father killed himself, and he also held stock in the institution, which has since been reorganized. Federal Judge Carpenter will hold a hearing on the petition this morning.

New York, July 5.—The steamship Leviathan, reconditioned by the government at a cost of more than $2,000,000, and now on the high seas on its first trip under the American flag in the trans-Atlantic passenger service, "never made any money and never will," Rear Admiral Charles P. Plunkett, commandant at the Brooklyn navy yard, declared in an address today before the Brooklyn Rotary club. The great liner, like the British Majestic and Berengaria, is too large and expensive for practical operation, he said.

CONSTABLE WHO SLEW PICNICKER HELD FOR MURDER

Charge Justice Park Aids Shielded Gamblers.

The mayor of Justice Park was making hay while the sun shone on the Fourth of July.

A short distance away his constables were mingling with members of the Excelsior club who were holding a picnic in a grove. On the outskirts of the grove professional gamblers and bootleggers were playing their "trades" without apparent molestation. Richard De Rutter, 215 West 119th street, one of the Excelsior, protested when he lost between $25 and $50 in what he believed was a "crooked" game, and Constable James Kalvovek drew his revolver and shot De Rutter dead.

Held for Murder.

Yesterday Kalvovek was arrested on a charge of murder on orders of Mayor Harry Goldstein, commanding the highway police, when the story of the shooting had been told at the opening of the inquest in the village hall at Summit. He will be held in custody until the inquest is resumed on July 15.

Dozens of members of the Excelsior club attended the inquest, and justice was done their comrades, and deputy sheriffs and more of the mayor's constables mingled with the crowd when it appeared that feeling against the Justice Park officials might lead to more than a riot. Kalvovek, who mixes his duties as constable with those of village trustee, had nothing to say. He was represented by the mayor.

Involved Into Game.

De Rutter's friends testified he had been invited into a dice game known as "roly poly," conducted by a shaver. He demanded his money back. The gambler refused to pay. De Rutter threatened to kick him, but his friends dragged him away to the grove. The constable followed. De Rutter was still struggling with his friends in an effort to return to the gambling game when Kalvovek drew his gun and shot him. The mayor explained Kalvovek thought De Rutter was a robber trying to make his escape and was afraid he was "going to run him in."

The club members declared the Justice Park officials were protecting the gambling games.

LEGION MEMBERS IDENTIFY LORENZ AS LIBEL WRITER

Say He Admitted Being Author.

Men who served in the great war, and have since risen to positions of prominence in political and business life, took the witness stand before a jury in Judge Hugo Farn's court and identified Arthur Lorenz, former editor of the Illinois Staats-Zeitung, a German newspaper, as the one who defamed their organization, the American Legion.

Lorenz is charged with having written a satirical article, entitled "The Finest of the Fine," attacking the membership of the Legion. The editorial, as translated, termed the editorial a body of "bums, tramps, and vagabonds," witnesses said.

Though Lorenz, according to his attorneys, will deny he wrote the editorial, witnesses who testified before the state closed its case yesterday. It stated that Lorenz had admitted its authorship.

Col. Sprague Testifies.

Col. Albert A. Sprague, commissioner of public works, said he had read a free translation of the article the day it was published in the German newspaper.

The article is a malignant insult, he said.

William C. Setliffe, chief deputy internal revenue collector, former Illinois state adjutant of the American Legion, said he had referred the editorial to his post for action.

Lorenz was confronted in his office by Maj. Reed Landis, American aviator during the war, the latter testified, and was forced to admit that a translation of the article published in the "Voice of the People" column of the Tribune was a fair one. Lorenz also admitted that he had written it, said Maj. Landis, a son of former Judge Kane's Mountain Landis.

Foreman on Stand.

Charles W. Schick, state commander of the legion, an aviator in the navy during the war, and Maj. Gen. Milton J. Fortman, commander of the 12th Field Artillery, A. E. F., testified they had seen the article.

That Lorenz, when fighting extradition to Illinois from Minnesota, had confessed having written the article, was sworn to by Edward R. Martin, attaché of the state's attorney's office.

CLEAN STREETS, SPRAGUE WARNS STREET CLEANERS

Political Favor Will Not Save Jobs, He Says.

Chicago's streets and alleys are to be the cleanest in the world, even if ward superintendents long protected in their inefficiency by politicians are sacrificed, declared Commissioner of Public Works A. A. Sprague yesterday in answer to the charge of Ald. Arthur Albrecht (18th) that summary dismissal of four superintendents last Tuesday warranted an inquiry.

After the alderman's demand for an administrative investigation into charges that the last civil service examination for the superintendents had been "fixed," Col. Sprague ordered the entire corps into a conference in the office of Thomas F. Byrne, superintendent of streets, where they were told of his plan to reorganize immediately Mayor Dever's campaign pledge to "clean up the streets."

Favoritism Is Indicated.

Personal of the examination papers of the four discharged men indicated the political favoritism had obtained the positions for them, Col. Sprague said, and as a result an examining commission of street cleaning experts has been drafted into the city's service to prepare questions and check the answers of future applicants for ward superintendents.

Richard T. Fox, head of the Citizens Street Cleaning bureau, will head the examining board. Other members are Thomas Kelley, in charge of the Chicago Surface Lines street cleaning and repairing activities, and W. J. Galligan, second assistant superintendent of streets.

"The city's street cleaning system is thoroughly disorganized," Col. Sprague told the ward superintendents. "Every time a complaint is made about unclean streets, you reply that there is not enough money. True, there is need for more money, but that is less than 50 per cent of the cause of Chicago's dirty streets."

Too Much Money Wasted.

"You're not getting full value out of the money you are spending. There is too much waste that you can prevent and will prevent or get out. In the future, take your orders from Mr. Byrne, who will get his directly from me. The ward committee's word or the alderman's wish will not save your job if you don't deliver."

"I mean every word I say and I'm going through with this thing until the streets and alleys are as clean as is humanly possible to keep streets."

TRIAL OF ELGIN'S GRITTY NEWSBOY COMES UP TODAY

George Stage, crippled newsboy of Elgin, will be tried today on a charge of obstructing the streets with his newsstand before Judge C. F. Irwin, sitting in the Elgin City court. Stage was arrested and his stand torn down by police. The action was charged to the influence of Spiro Fausti, a fruit dealer, whose trade in newspapers had been hurt by Stage's stand.

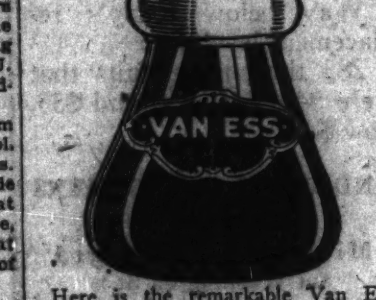

That Stage's only means of eking out a meager living might not be endangered, Chicago newspapers employed attorneys Arthur L. Paulson and Harry Daniels of Elgin to defend him. His suit to enjoin permanently the city from interfering with his operation of the stand will be heard on Saturday by Judges William Fulton and Martin Slusser, sitting at Wheaton.

Student Is Drowned at Jesuit Seminary

John Stuart, 22 years old, son of John Stuart of 1116 South Harvey avenue, Oak Park, was drowned Wednesday afternoon. It was learned yesterday in a lake on the premises of St. Mary's of the Lake, a Jesuit theological seminary at Arcia, Ill., where he was studying for the priesthood.

Emil Conneault of Chicago, another student, nearly lost his life in an attempt to rescue Stuart, who had been seized with cramps.

Big Store Decorators to Stage Window Display Contest

National Merchandise Fair Arranges Feast of Ideas
THE Display Committee of the National Merchandise Fair has arranged for a great Window Display contest, to take place at the Fair during the 1923 exhibition, July 23 to August 3, inclusive.

A special section is to be set aside at Grand Central Palace, in which will be erected at least twenty display windows. They will be arranged in a long row and will be built in various depths, heights and positions in order to reproduce exactly almost every possible window problem faced in any retail store. The Display Committee expects to render a valuable service to the retail trade by demonstrating correct methods of decoration. Window Display crews from various stores will be assigned to each section of windows and trim their windows with merchandise selected as it would be at any retail store. Typical features will be employed and in every way the displays will be set up precisely as though they were in the store and under the usual supervision. Merchandise used in the special windows will be selected from the regular Fair exhibits in advance by the display managers. The selections will be made with a view to the practical conditions that exist in regular store displays as well as a consideration for the most effective available merchandise. There will be no haphazard jumbling of goods. Every window and every thing in it will be carefully planned in advance with a view to demonstrating how a specific problem should be handled. The crews will do their work in the evenings, after the Fair closes, and have their respective windows ready for inspection when the Fair opens each morning. An entire change of displays will be made every two days. This means that there will be six different sets of windows to see during the two weeks of the Fair with about twenty different windows in each set. Every retailer will recognize the exceptional value of the work that the Display Committee has undertaken. It is a part of every merchant's trip to the market to go to see what the different New York stores are showing and to get new ideas for arrangement of merchandise, use of colors, drapes, combinations, and so on. At the Fair, the display staffs that do the store windows you always wish to see in New York will be giving the same effort and ingenuity to make the Fair Display an educational feast.

Special to Manufacturers and Wholesalers
You will note that this Window Display Contest is right in line with the management's campaign to make the Fair interesting, from every angle, to the Nation's Merchants and Buyers. More than 50,000 retail buyers are now expected at the Fair. Reserve your booth at once.

SIX BALLOONS STILL ALOFT IN NATIONAL RACE

Last to Land Had Drifted Over 300 Miles.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—Six of the thirteen balloons which took off here yesterday afternoon in the national contest for distance still were in the air and drifting east over eastern Ohio at a late hour today, according to word received by the Indianapolis chamber of commerce, sponsor for the race.

The "American Legionnaire," with C. E. McCullough, its charge, was downed late tonight by a thunderstorm at Franklin Springs, Pa., having traveled about 320 miles.

Thrills a-plenty marked the brief report in the air of the other balloons reported having landed near various cities in Indiana and Ohio. One pilot and his aid were forced to jump for safety as their balloon came down. They suffered slight injuries and the loss of their ship, which later descended.

Two other balloons were brought to earth for forced landings, but the men suffered no injury.

Army and Navy Have Advantage.

Army and navy entries have a decided advantage in the contest now, as five of the six craft remaining in the running belong to the service. The other balloon, which so far as is known still is drifting on, is the "St. Louis."

The first four entries which ended their journey were privately owned or property of a rubber company.

Prizes who are out of the race are: Roy F. Donaldson, Springfield, Ill., in charge of the City of Springfield; W. T. Van Orman of Akron, O., in charge of the City of Akron; Ralph Upson of Detroit, flying the Detroit; Jack Beets of Akron, O., in command of the Goddard II.; and Lieut. James Jordan of army balloon 8-7; Lieutenant Commander J. P. Northcott of navy balloon 6-4-14, and C. E. McCullough, balloon 3-1-1.

Donaldson reported he was unable to operate the rip panel on the "City of Springfield" and the ship drifted about 300 miles. He brought his ship down near Prentiss, O., at 11 a. m. today when he saw that he was drifting toward the lake.

HANDS OF DEATH

The clock indicates the number of deaths caused by automobiles, guns, and moonshine in Cook county since Jan. 1.

Springfield and the ship made a hurried landing, both the pilot and P. A. Barlach of Springfield, Ill., jumping as the basket skimmed the ground. They were slightly injured. The balloon escaped them with all their equipment, but later drifted down near Springfield, O. The army balloon landed at Macedonia, O., and the navy balloon at Eaton, O.

Four Held for Attacking and Robbing Girl of 16

Four youths were arrested last night in connection with the attack on 16 year old Mary Kus, 614 West 12th street, found wandering, early yesterday in the Elk Grove forest preserve on Higgins road. The girl stated that she met three men at a carnival on Wednesday night who took her to the preserve in an automobile. There they robbed her of $10 and afterwards attacked her. The youths arrested were Emory and John Jalovec, brothers, 7548 West 61st place; Adolph Ghandi, 15 years old, 7818 West 61st place, and Henry Craft, 15 years old, 7558 West 61st street.

"Black Handers" Blamed for Street Murder of Man

A "Black Hand" feud, it is believed, was responsible for the death yesterday of Peter Pazzallo, 945 Hope street, a laborer, shot and killed by two unknown men a few doors from his home as he left for work in the morning. The men were seen running away by Mrs. Tremont, 929 Hope street, who was attracted to her window by the shots. Both are described as young.

Woman Leaps from Third Story of Home to Death

Suffering from ill health, Mrs. Rose Lethowski, 63 years old, 3258 South Sacramento avenue, leaped from the third story window of her home yesterday and died a few minutes later.

2 MORE DEATHS RAISE 1923 TOLL OF AUTOS TO 327

Chicago Woman, Boy Killed Out of Town.

Two men died yesterday as a result of injuries suffered in automobile accidents, bringing the number of Cook county automobile deaths since Jan. 1 to 327. A woman and a boy, both from Chicago, were killed in accidents in other cities.

John Lacy, 57 years old, 1145 North California avenue, died at the Jefferson Park hospital as a result of an accident June 25.

Abraham Kaplan, 47, 444 West 61st place, who was struck by a taxicab Tuesday, died in St. Bernard's hospital.

Chicago Woman Killed.

Mrs. Emma Keeler, 128 North Wells street, was fatally injured near Irving, N. Y., on the Fourth of July and died yesterday.

An automobile owned by Dr. W. D. Weaver of Chicago, turned over near Burdick, Ind. Henry Weaver, 7 years old son of Dr. Weaver, was killed instantly.

Autoist Fined for Drunking.

Frank S. Hartman, 4800 North California avenue, a son of Peter Hartman, former county commissioner, was fined and fined $10 and costs on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated by Justice of the Peace John P. Boyer in Evanston yesterday.

CAISSON DIGGERS REFUSED HEARING BY EMPLOYERS

Members of the Building Construction Employers' association, at a special meeting yesterday afternoon, agreed not to deal individually on wage and working conditions with caisson diggers who joined an unauthorized strike a week ago Friday.

The caisson men struck along with building laborers when their wage demands were rejected. The laborers wanted an increase from 32 cents an hour to $1 an hour, and the caisson diggers a boost from $1.10 to $1.25 an hour.

TURKS DEMAND DEBTS BE KEPT OUT OF TREATY

BY LARRY RUE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.) (Copyright, 1923, by The Chicago Tribune.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 5.—The Turkish government today instructed Ismet Pasha to inform the allies that either must leave the pre-war debt question outside the treaty or accept the Turkish viewpoint. No other action is possible.

Furthermore, Turkey refuses to sign the treaty unless it provides for the evacuation of Constantinople and Gallipoli. If the allies refuse Ismet is instructed to return to Ankara. The Turks today abolished the restrictions against Americans entering and leaving the country. The Turks announce that Americans in Turkey will be allowed all the privileges of allied subjects. The departing visa has been dropped for all countries, but non-Turk Ottoman subjects are permitted to leave on condition that they do not return.

SWIGART ESTATE CLAIM IS LOST BY MRS. WELCH

BY LARRY RUE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.) (Copyright, 1923, by The Chicago Tribune.)

As a result of Judge Horner's decision the estate will continue to be held in trust by A. A. Worsley for the benefit of Miss Emma Swigart, in name sister of the alderman.

Mrs. Welch, who, according to alderman, is a wardrobe mistress at a loop theater, last August filed a petition asserting she was the offspring of a common law marriage between her mother and Swigart and that she was born in Chicago in 1849. After Davis' death, she said, their marriage had legitimized her birth.

MRS. MCCORMICK DIES, AGED 88, AT LAKE FOREST

Widow of Harvester Co.'s Former Chief.

Mrs. Cyrus H. McCormick, 88, widow of the former head of the harvester company and widely known for her philanthropic work, died yesterday morning at her summer home in Lake Forest at the age of 88. Her death came after a brief illness of acute bronchitis.

Mrs. McCormick was a foremost figure in the early history of Chicago, and her interest in many public, charitable, and religious activities continued to the end. She was an undoubted factor in upbuilding the harvester corporation, and it is said that even in recent years her sons conferred with her often regarding business policies.

The great brownstone house at 671 Rush street was a center of the wider Chicago society. In her later years she turned her interest to philanthropy and is said to have given more money to the Presbyterian church than any other person in the country.

Recently Returned from West.

Mrs. McCormick returned from California, where she had been in the habit of spending the winter, a short time ago. A week ago she was acted with an attack of bronchitis which her age made serious. Her daughter and son, Mrs. Edmunds Blaine, Cyrus H. McCormick and Maxwell McCormick, were summoned to the Lake Forest home.

Hope for her recovery was held until yesterday morning, when she sank rapidly despite the efforts of attending physicians. She died at 11 o'clock, with the three children, her granddaughter Muriel, and a few old servants at her side.

A third son, Stanley, who is in California, and a second daughter, Virginia, in Alabama, were notified, and are on their way home.

Supported Several Schools.

Mrs. Nettie Fowler, Mrs. McCormick was born in Clayton, N. Y., in 1845. She came to Chicago in 1877 and a year later was married to Cyrus H. McCormick. He died in 1894.

Not even her family knew how large were the charities to which Mrs. McCormick devoted a greater interest as she advanced in years. She supported a half dozen schools in this country and numerous schools and missions in Spain, Korea, China, and other parts of Asia. Her private gifts to the missions and pastors, who always found her ready with aid, were numerous.

Her gifts to the McCormick Theological seminary alone are said to have totaled more than $1,000,000. Donations aggregating an almost equal amount were made to the Shantung Christian university, the University of Nanking, and the North China university at Peking.

Visitors to her home were impressed

IRENE CASTLE STARTS DIVORCE SUIT; THEN JOINS HUSBY ON TRIP

PARIS, July 5.—[By the Associated Press.]—While court records show that Irene Castle Treman has started divorce proceedings against Capt. Robert Treman, the captain's lawyer said today that the pair were leaving to spend this afternoon for Deauville for a few days' stay at the resort.

The dancer refused either to confirm or deny whether she would proceed with the case, and there were rumors of a reconciliation.

She shut herself in her hotel room and refused to discuss the case. Capt. Treman also declined to talk.

by what some chose to call a "royal air." Her charm was undeniable. She retained a quick wit, a fund of humor, an aptness at repartee to the last. For many years she suffered from deafness, but she managed conversation with such tact that the affliction was quickly forgotten by her companions.

Friendship World-Wide.

Her correspondence was enormous and included friends all over the world. Much of it was written in her own hand, in a handwriting that remained clear and firm despite her age.

The number of her friends and their wide distribution was evidenced eight years ago on the occasion of her 80th birthday when the Rush street home was flooded with telegrams and cables during a surprise party given her by her children and attended by some of the most notable figures in the city.

No definite plans for the funeral have been made.

DEMOCRATS SIZE UP CARTER H. AS GOVERNOR RACER

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Downstate Democrats blew into Chicago yesterday with tidings that a tentative boom has appeared in the rural districts for Carter H. Harrison for the governorship nomination. They said it is apparently not engineered by any group of leaders in particular, but that, like Topsy, it seems to have "just grown."

In many counties in central and southern Illinois, they said, rank and file Democrats are talking of the five times mayor of Chicago and what sort of a run he would make downstate.

Mr. Harrison is off on a holiday in the southwest, but his political associates expressed a disbelief that a governorship nomination would appear so strongly to him. Four years at Springfield, they said, would hold little allure for Mr. Harrison, who, in fact, might have had the nomination in 1930 if he had cared to accept. Downstate politicians argued that Mr. Harrison's record of common sense and tolerance and liberality, plus a penchant for law enforcement, would make him satisfactory to the ordinary voter and dry.

More G. O. P. Lightning Rods.

On the Republican side, more possible candidates are springing up. From Adams county came a report that George H. Wilson of Quincy is being groomed by friends. Mr. Wilson was one of the floor leaders of the dry forces at Springfield and is anti-small all across the board.

Friends of Congressman Richard Yates also brought up word from central Illinois that he is to be considered among the possibilities when the G. O. P. anti-small leaders again meet in an endeavor to agree on some one man to run against the governor in the primaries.

Some reports indicate that during the last few weeks John H. Harrison, the Danville editor, has been making some definite progress as a candidate for the nomination.

He is president of the Illinois Press association and many downstate papers are beginning to boost him along.

Deputy Men for Lowden.

Some Deaneen leaders are declaring that Frank O. Lowden is the "logical man" to stop Gov. Small if he enters the primaries. The former governor is still sitting tight, with no personal inclination for a crack at another term, but apparently willing to go if anti-

Republican and Democratic chiefs think alike as to the possibility that Small may be renominated if the opposition to him is split in the primaries. They all chalk down the $100,000,000 road-bond issue as the greatest patronage lever ever wielded by an executive downstate.

DE JONGHE'S CITES "ELITE" GUESTS AT DRY LAW TRIAL

Names of prominent Chicagoans were invoked yesterday as a defense against the government's suit to close De Jonghe's cafe because of alleged violations of the liquor laws.

J. A. Hickey, manager, declared his clientele was made up of "the best people in Chicago" and added it included many attaches of the United States district attorney's office. He named Mrs. Potter Palmer, Mrs. H. O. Stone, Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick and Justice Owen Cartwright of the Illinois Supreme court as dinner patrons.

He entered a complete denial of the government's charge that whiskey was sold there.

Federal Judge Cliffe took the case under advisement until July 20.

CHICAGO IS FLOODED

Chicago thanks to the surrounding water in Cook and Du Page, was flooded with fireworks and firecrackers. They popped merrily in all sections of the city despite the watchfulness of the police. Soft drink and refreshment stands along the various country highways had been groaning beneath great stacks of fireworks for the last few weeks, making it an easy matter for boys and girls in their teens to obtain plentiful supplies if they were able to borrow their parents' or a neighbor's automobile.

"Our deputies could do nothing in such cases," explained Sheriff Hoffman. "We have jurisdiction only in cases where the store is not located within the corporate limits of a village or town. Take Cicero, for instance. That is the largest town in the county and it has an ordinance which permits its merchants to sell fireworks. It is the same in many of the smaller towns and villages where the local authorities either permitted or winked at the sale of explosives."

The main highways of the county, DuPage road, Washington road, Milwaukee avenue, for example, and not in any village, were lined with fireworks stands. Apparently no effort was made by the sheriff's force to curb the sales.

Five Injured by Fireworks.
Six of twenty-two persons given medical attention at hospitals in Chicago on the Fourth were injured by fireworks or buckshot.

A. Louie led all the cities in the country in the number of accidents, twenty-six persons being injured in his city alone by fireworks and blank cartridges.

More than twenty persons in New York City were injured by fireworks, blank cartridges, and blank cartridges.

At St. Mary's hospital, 1115 N. Dearborn, a man, 40, was injured by fireworks, blank cartridges, and blank cartridges.

REPORT 10 BILLS VOTED AGAINST "PONY" BETTORS

Grand Jurors Sift
Racing Gambling.

State's Attorney Crowe's war on bookmakers at the Hawthorne track and throughout Chicago has its first fruits yesterday when the grand jury, it was reported, voted in disapproval against ten alleged notorious bookmakers.

Several of those named in the bills were named in raids at the track. Chief among them are Patrick O'Malley and James Loneragan, well known in gambling circles.

The others are Peter Anderson, Henry Hardner, both of 121 North Clark street; Frank Chance and Frank Corby, 225 North State street; John Donahue, "one Alto" and Roy Shumway, all of 74 West Madison street.

Investigators were posted at the track and throughout haunts of the city's gamblers by State's Attorney Crowe on the opening day last Saturday. Numerous alleged gamblers were seized by detectives at the track and as many more taken in raids in the city.

Assistant State's Attorney Robert E. McMillan was assigned by Mr. Crowe to present evidence against the men to the grand jury.

"I have ordered Mr. McMillan to go the limit in the prosecution of the cases against the men," Prosecutor Crowe declared. "I warned the gamblers that they could not operate, but they didn't heed my word. Now they will have to stand the consequences."

Houses of questionable repute are operated under the guise of massage parlors, the city contends, in an answer filed yesterday to a suit brought by Fred Johnson, proprietor of the Abbott institute, 25 North Dearborn street, to mandamus Mayor Dever to restore his license.

Johnson conducts what is termed a "physical therapeutic establishment," where women attendants, according to the answer, give massage treatments to men.

60598 Bankers to say "Yes" or "No"

"How does this hat look on me?"
you turn to a friend for an opinion. The salesman says it looks fine, but the salesman is interested.
Your friend does not care whether you buy the hat or not, but he does care how you look—he is the disinterested adviser. He says what he believes.

On great occasions of doubt we all turn to professional advisers—Bankers, Architects, Lawyers, Doctors, Engineers—whose opinions influence us in things we are going to buy.

The Literary Digest is read by 60,598 Bankers, 3,292 Architects, 56,732 Lawyers, 61,394 Doctors, 29,737 Engineers, whose "Yes" or "No" influence the sale of many kinds of goods.

Millions of people who buy and use the products the national advertiser makes and sells turn to professional advisers whose disinterested opinion they want on matters ranging all the way from a tooth paste to a new factory.

In its circulation of 1,300,000 copies per week, The Literary Digest reaches 359,757 professional advisers, and these professional men are the leading professional men, just as the merchants and manufacturers who read The Digest are the leading merchants and manufacturers.

Men of thought and action, men who lead, men who have arrived, read The Digest, whether professional advisers or merchants, or manufacturers. The Digest did not make them leaders, but leadership makes The Digest necessary to them.

The same advertisement in the pages of The Literary Digest reaches both the customer and the professional adviser who may be consulted about the purchase. And this professional man is a multiple customer, buying in his own individual capacity as a successful and prosperous man, home owner, head of a family, etc., and influencing sales to others in his capacity of professional adviser.

We shall be glad to send any manufacturer or other advertiser a chart showing just how the readers of The Digest are multiple buyers for the goods he makes and sells. The Literary Digest, 354 Fourth Avenue, New York.

Fun from the PRESS

The funniest thing said last week in any newspaper turns up on the screen in "Fun from the Press". The Digest movie. This animated comic is illustrated by Max Fleischer who created the celebrated Out-of-the-Inkwell clowns. The funniest words and the funniest pictures—will make the high spot of your evening at the movies.

For a Broader Service

The advantages of a National Bank.
The advantages of a Trust Company.
... combined!

That in a nutshell summarizes this institution.

But more than anything, a broader, more comprehensive service than possible under any other conditions.

So the Foreman Bros. Banking Co. has come to be The Foreman National Bank and The Foreman Trust and Savings Bank—both guided and inspired by a 61-year-old policy of meeting customers more than half way, and a desire to render the supreme in banking service.

"A big, friendly institution where the spirit is democratic and it is a pleasure to do business."

JOCKEY FRONK BIDS FOR FAME AT HAWTHORNE

HOW THEY DOPE TODAY

Franks which appear best on form in today's races at Hawthorne follow:

WINDY RACE—Glenko, Gold, Wolf, Leland.

SECOND RACE—Glenko, Gold, Wolf, Leland.

THIRD RACE—Glenko, Gold, Wolf, Leland.

FOURTH RACE—Glenko, Gold, Wolf, Leland.

FIFTH RACE—Glenko, Gold, Wolf, Leland.

SIXTH RACE—Glenko, Gold, Wolf, Leland.

BY FRENCH LANE

Jockey W. Franks had the folks out at Hawthorne cheering and cursing yesterday. His in and out riding was easily the feature of just an ordinary card which attracted a crowd of 10,000.

Franks, who has won his spurs in Kentucky, gave Glenko a ride in the second race, Two Turbans Special, that was as beautiful as anything seen in the vicinity of the meeting.

Favorite and outsiders made it about a fifty-fifty split in the day.

The sport was good, better, in fact, than an ordinary card of players usually offers, and there were plenty of opportunities for the race hungry Chicagoans to unblock enthusiasm.

HANDICAP AIDS 'REDS' NIP DAYTON POLOISTS

Onwental Reds, with a handicap of seven goals, defeated the Dayton four yesterday in a consolation polo game, 11 to 10, on the Onwental club polo field at Lake Forest. The seven goal disadvantage at which the Dayton team was placed proved too large a handicap. Dayton never came within striking distance of the Reds until near the close of the game, although H. Tibbot played a stellar role in leading his team in scoring, with five goals. Lineup: Onwental Reds: 1. J. N. Gaudin, 2. R. J. Higgins, 3. M. J. Morgan, 4. M. J. Morgan, 5. M. J. Morgan, 6. M. J. # JACK NEEDS MORE FIGHTS TO KEEP IN SHAPE—HUGH

BY HUGH FULLERTON.
Special.

Jack Dempsey, who was yesterday's battle with Tom Gibbons, the result of two years of silence.

Many who witnessed the failure of a champion, hailed as the greatest of all time, to defeat a built-up light heavyweight, are divided in opinion. The fact remains that Dempsey was lucky that he chose Tom Gibbons as the first step toward his return to the ring. Had he tackled a more powerful and poked as he did yesterday, he would in all probability have been beaten. Had he selected Harry Wills, the chances he would have been flat-footed.

While many think Dempsey has gone back to the conclusion is not justified. The fact that he was on his toes, strong and fresh and going better in the first round than at any other time proves that he was in superb physical condition.

Poker Old Shelby Back on Calico and Kerosene Basis

BY RICHARD HENRY LITTLE.
Special.

Shelby, Mont., July 5.—[Special.]—I was in Shelby, Mont., this morning and a lot of people came in and bought a gallon of a kerosene and two cans of Calico and I was out of the place. Then came a Blackfoot Indian lady, who purchased a gallon of Calico and a can of Calico. It was a great relief. Shelby is getting back to normal. I was in the cold, chilly rain down Shelby street. It was almost deserted.

Two boys I picked up under an awning and they were chewing tobacco and discussing the weather. A farmer drove up to the door and took his four children in to buy shoes. Jim Alcorn, an efficient city policeman, lounged around the depot and wondered if the country wasn't going to the dogs with Harding's rule around Alcala and nobody down a street in the White House but that's a Calico.

Gay White, who is no more. Most all the visitors to the big fight got away last night. The cane racers, pop stands, and sandwich emporiums were all closed to day. The mud was a foot deep in the Shelby streets and the country was a mess. Shelby is getting back to normal. I was in the cold, chilly rain down Shelby street. It was almost deserted.

TOM AND JACK PULL STAKES IN MONTANA

Great Falls, Mont., July 5.—[By the Associated Press.]—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, tonight is starting out on a few days' vacation after his coming to Montana to fight Tom Gibbons.

Dempsey was in high spirits at the station. His right eye was slightly discolored and the cut over the left eye was starting to heal nicely. The champion here no other marks.

TOMMY SHOWS FEW MARKS. Shelby, Mont., July 5.—[By the Associated Press.]—His eye was puffed and discolored, and one lip slightly cut. Tom Gibbons, nevertheless, appeared but little the worse today as the result of the grueling battle yesterday with Jack Dempsey.

The challenger departed at 11:30 o'clock tonight for St. Paul with his wife and their three children. They will spend a week in St. Paul and then leave for Lake Okauch, Minn., their summer home.

Gibbons chatted freely this morning about the fight and said he was in excellent shape. With the exception of his damaged eye and lip, the only mark on him is a blue welt on one thigh, caused by a low blow.

Mrs. Gibbons Happy. Mrs. Gibbons is in a happier frame of mind than she has been since her husband began training here more than a year ago, and believed that the strain of waiting for the outcome of the fight, which was cheerful and talkative today. She laughed at mention of Tom's "winnings," which were nothing, and expressed appreciation of the way in which they had been entertained by Shelby.

RING FANS HERE RATE TOM AHEAD OF JACK

TRIBUTE DECISIONS

Decisions of The Tribune boxing representative yesterday were: At Indianapolis, Ind.—Bill Long beat Jimmy Gordon [10]. At Atlantic City, N. J.—Johnny Gil and Andy Kid Palmer, draw [10]; Billy Finn beat Jack Johnson [10]; Al Gordon beat Ray Leonard [10].

BY WALTER ECKERSALL. The remarkable defensive boxing of Tom Gibbons of St. Paul, who stayed fifteen rounds with Champion Jack Dempsey at Shelby, Mont., Wednesday afternoon, was the principal topic of conversation around local fight headquarters yesterday, while the failure of the Tender-Freedman match to materialize at Michigan City, came in for considerable discussion.

The Montana bout showed beyond question, it was held, that a boxer must be given a chance with a fighter, regardless of differences in weight such as existed between Gibbons and Dempsey.

In addition to the extra poundage it should be mentioned that the kid, money and rabbit punches were allowed at Shelby, in addition to hitting in the clinches. This style of fighting is not permitted in New York City and Gibbons would undoubtedly have done a lot better in the Empire state.

Tommy Showed Master. Dempsey did most of his damage at close quarters, while Gibbons was easily the master at the stand-off style of fighting. Tom undoubtedly blocked numbers of blows with his forearms and elbows, but he did remarkably well to stand up under the terrific bombardment of blows around the midsection.

To add to the bout was the closest approach to the Corbett-Sullivan bout back in 1902, when Corbett, the master boxer, defeated Sullivan, the murderous puncher. In that memorable battle, Corbett simply outboxed his opponent, who tried as the hot work on and finally became easy prey for the bank clerk, who stopped Sullivan in the twenty-first round.

Little Wagered Here. Although the bout was a surprise to nearly everyone, identified with the boxing game, there was little money wagered on the result in Chicago. The few bets which were made were on the length of the contest and some money changed hands through Gibbons' being able to stay the full fifteen rounds.

The fact that Dempsey was unable to knock Tom off his pins is remarkable in itself, as Gibbons' record in this respect is still clean. The Gopher, however, never has taken a count, and has never been knocked down.

Failure of the Tender-Freedman match to materialize at Michigan City because there was not enough money taken in at the gate to meet all expenses if Tender had been given his

GIBBONS BROTHERS TO BURY HATCHET WHEN ST. PAUL GREET TOM

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 5.—A big parade with several bands, hundreds of automobiles, and a large crowd, is being planned as part of the St. Paul welcome to Tommy Gibbons Saturday morning on his return from Shelby. Gov. J. A. O. Press of Minnesota and Mayor Arthur E. Nelson of St. Paul have signed their intention of taking part. One of those who is reported plan to greet Tommy, will be his famous brother, Mike, who fought Tammie much before the fight game. The two had a quarrel several years ago and since have not spoken. The cause of their dispute never has been made public.

Reports from Shelby today said that Tommy had received a letter from Mike in which the "Phantom" was given an expression of his regret at inability to attend the fight game. The letter, however, declaring "I'll be on my knees praying that you win."

$10,000 guarantee, should lead to some sort of legislation to protect the public. If promoters want to give these exorbitant guarantees they should be made to put the money in the bank to assure the public that the bouts will take place.

Boxers Should Take Pre-Cent. Either this should be done, or the fighters be made to gamble with the promoters, who now take all the chances. The boxers, who depend upon the promoters for a livelihood, should be made to work on a percentage in the event the drawing power of a match does not merit guarantees.

GOTHAM CREDITS TOM. New York, July 5.—[Special.]—New York was busy analyzing the Dempsey-Gibbons bout today. It was the leading pastime. Has Dempsey gone back, or was Gibbons underrated? Finally it was decided that it was a case of a little of both. The consensus was that Dempsey's two year layoff had done him a good deal, and Gibbons proved himself a much more sturdy boxer, and strong defensive, crafty boxer, than had been supposed.

The following statements were obtained: "JACK RICHARD—Naturally I was somewhat surprised. I have always regarded Gibbons as the best man in the world at 175 pounds, but I did not think he was big and strong enough to stand up before Dempsey for fifteen rounds."

"JACK WILLARD—Gibbons proved that he is a great fighter. I am more confident than ever that I can defeat Dempsey."

"JACK WILLARD—It must have been a great fight. Gibbons is a man, and Dempsey was a great fighter. Gibbons must be a great fighter, too. I hope to get a chance to meet Dempsey."

"JACK WILLARD—I was quite surprised. I felt before that I could defeat Dempsey if I had the opportunity. Now I am sure of it. Dempsey is a great fighter. Gibbons must be a great fighter, too. I hope to get a chance to meet Dempsey."

"JACK WILLARD—I was quite surprised. I felt before that I could defeat Dempsey if I had the opportunity. Now I am sure of it. Dempsey is a great fighter. Gibbons must be a great fighter, too. I hope to get a chance to meet Dempsey."

SHELBY FINDS IT LOST $100,000 ON BIG FIGHT

SHelby, Mont., July 5.—[By Associated Press.]—Its treasury of excitement, Shelby sat down today to count its losses.

On the debit side of the ledger, the little Montana town, which had its day yesterday as the fight center of the world, must write down a deficit of approximately $100,000.

It bought the world's heavyweight championship battle, to which 7,302 paid admission. There was an outlay of $210,000 for the titleholder; $20,000 for promotion, and $55,000 for an arena.

With the exception of salvage on the huge amphitheater, estimated to be about $25,000, approximately $281,485 in cash receipts, from which federal taxes of $23,448.10 must be deducted, according to figures made public here by Charles A. Rasmussen, Montana collector of internal revenue, the investment was a loser.

DEPUTIES WAIT FOR PLANE WITH FIGHT PICTURES. Agents of the department of justice and deputy United States marshals waited in vain last night for the arrival of an airplane they believed to be carrying motion pictures of the Dempsey-Gibbons fight for exhibition in Chicago.

After a wait of several hours they ascertained that the plane had been delayed near Minneapolis and was not expected to arrive here until today. The plane's exchange declared the film was not of the fight, but of features connected with it, and therefore the shipment was not in violation of the federal law.

Firpo Gets Deep Gash Over Eye in Practice. Trenton, N. J., July 5.—[Special.]—Luis Firpo, in his training camp at Long Branch, N. J., today sustained a jagged cut over his left eye when one of his sparring partners, Jack McAuliffe II, of Detroit, butted him in a three round sparring match.

ONLY BRITONS LEFT IN SCULLS MEET; ALL FOREIGNERS LOSE OUT. HENLEY-ON-THAMES, July 5.—[Associated Press.]—The English tradition that the Henley regatta honors should be kept at home were lived up to today when the last of the foreigners, including Russell Codman Jr., Boston sculler, was eliminated from the classic Thames carnival.

The Canadian champion, Hilton Belyea, remained in competition by ousting Dr. Rudolph Bosshard of Zurich, Switzerland. The United States also had a little share in making the regatta all British, as the Ontario, W. P. Mellen, who stroked the Britannia college eight to victory over the French crew, hails from America.

Codman followed Walter Hoover of Duluth out of the diamonds competition, proving no match for D. H. L. Gollan, deaf and dumb British sculler, who led from the start, but finished two lengths behind in $20, faster than Gollan needed to beat Hoover yesterday.

Tomorrow Belyea races Gollan, but the experts have little hopes of the 33 years old overseas man winning. They expect Gollan and J. Beresford Jr. to meet in the final Saturday, and the latter is picked to win. Beresford today beat K. E. B. Wilson by two lengths.

Gollan was eliminated from the Diamond sculls last year by the same sort of fortune Hoover had yesterday, colliding with a boom in his contest with J. Beresford Jr.

The famous Henley course was lined from start to finish with punts, launches, and a few canoes today, giving a carnival and festive appearance similar to the pre-war days. The special side of Henley is as important to the British public as the racing itself, and the newspapers devote more space to describing the gowns worn by the women spectators than to the feats of the oarsmen.

CHICAGO CRAFT WINS WEBB CUP IN 'SIPPI REGATTA

Burlington, Ia., July 5.—Negotiating the final heat for the Webb trophy in 18 minutes and 20 seconds, the Chicago craft, both boats for the cup as the Mississippi Valley Power Motor Boat association regatta closed here, won the trophy.

Dubonnet, New Orleans, was second, but finished in slow time as her engines were not working smoothly. The last lap with a hole in the hull, but kept the open place on the water most of the time. A fast time to the shore barge at the conclusion of the event saved her from sinking.

Basing their awards on points, the following class championships were announced: Class 151—Miss Quiner, owned by the Peabody, Quincy, Ill. Class 115—P. D. G. VI, owned by A. C. Strong, Evanston, Ill. Class 200—Ethel XI, owned by E. P. Harlow, Madison, Wis. Class 110—King Tut, owned by C. H. Peabody, Quincy, Ill. Class 715—Milton VI, owned by W. H. Wilde, Peoria, Ill.

CHICAGOANS IN REGATTA TODAY. Decatur, Ill., July 5.—Eight clubs of the Central States Amateur Rowing association were entered here tonight ready for the opening of the annual regatta at Decatur, Ill., tomorrow. Detroit has forty men en route here. St. Louis has furnished six clubs, headed by the Century Boat club, entered in eight events. The Lincoln Boat club of Chicago, with thirty men, is expected to make a great race for the honors, while the Illinois Yacht and Canoe club of Peoria will make a large representation.

MINORITY HERRIN REPORT DEFENDS BLACK, HUNTER

BY FRANK BUTZOW.

Springfield, Ill., July 5.—(Special.)—Minority members of the Herrin inquiry committee filed their report today, "whitewashing" Adjt. Gen. Carr, Col. Black and Col. Samuel N. Hunter, who were blamed in the majority report for letting the massacre of June, 1918, occur when state troops could have prevented the murders.

The minority report was signed by Rep. Curran (Rep., Chicago), and Rep. (Rep., Boone). The belated filing of the minority report was due to the absence of Rep. Pierce, who is attorney for J. Birney Fields, one of the jurors who acquitted Gov. Deneen at Waukegan.

"Might Occur Anywhere."

There was in court at Waukegan, where Fields is on trial as one of the alleged jury "fixers" when the majority report was delivered. The "fixers" report was delivered to Rep. H. McCann, clerk of the house, by Gov. Deneen's secretary, George D. Chicago from his home in Joliet, Pa. was ordered sent back yesterday by Judge McCann.

and Col. Hunter "were unable to anticipate the action of the mob" and that "the same results might occur in any community in Illinois."

Rep. Curran, who was here the last day of the session when the majority report was delivered, attempted to prevent its entry in the records.

He had shown the document to the adjutant general and the governor and said he was having a minority report prepared. After gaining the point which let his objections go into the record Mr. Curran failed to offer any sort of minority report before the house adjourned sine die.

Condemns Private Guards.

The minority report says that Col. Hunter, who was in Williamson county several days before the massacre, "seemed surprised" when informed by Gen. Black over the telephone that newspapers were carrying an account of the killing. Later, the report continues, "Col. Hunter verified that a number of people had been killed."

The committee finds that Adjt. Gen. Black and Col. Hunter acted upon information at hand and were unable to anticipate the action of the mob," the report continues.

Employment of private armed guards to protect mines attempted to be operated by nonunion help during strikes in such highly unionized territory as Williamson county is vigorously condemned in the minority report as well as that of the majority.

"RUNAWAY BOY BEST HOME."

James Lester 17, who burned his way to Chicago from his home in Joliet, Pa. was ordered sent back yesterday by Judge McCann.

The Slayer of Souls

BY ELIZABETH DEJEANS

SYNOPSIS.—Leta Denton believes all the romance in the world comes to other people. Her father, who died in her infancy and who was reared by a father who was a member of the underworld, Leta leaves her native town to work for Denton Gorman in New York City. Leta is a beautiful girl, and although her employer catches her romantic fancy, she has no romance about her business activities. A member of the underworld ring is murdered in Gorman's office. Gorman is discovered there, arrested, and accused of murder. Leta brings her father's name to the defense of the man who is the owner of the underworld ring. Gorman's attorney decides to defend him. Mrs. Thornton tells the lawyers that she saw Denton Gorman.

INSTALLMENT XI. THE EYE OF THE OCTOPUS.

"Were you mentioned, madam?"

"No—yes, it was because Gaylord wanted some of it for me." She began to speak more rapidly. "Then we decided to go that night and ask Denton for it. We went up the stairs because the elevator wasn't running. Denton wouldn't give Gaylord any, and Gaylord just went mad. He was starved for

"Now madam, allow me to tell you a story."

He jumped on Denton, though I tried to hold him back, and they fought all over the room. Denton was furious and he was stronger than Gaylord. They were near the window and Denton pushed Gaylord out. Then Denton came into the room—I didn't know what to do. Then the policeman ran up the stairs and into Denton's room, and I opened the door from the outer office where I was into the hall and went down the stairs. People were passing the entrance, but no one was looking in or paying attention, and I walked into the apartment house and went up to my apartment. It's the truth—now give it to me! He had shown no horror during her recital, but her whole being was in that "Give it to me!"

Mrs. Thornton looked at Casey in keen expectancy. Casey would begin questioning now! Why wasn't it possible that she had showed the drug-crased peddler out of the window, both of them fighting to gain possession of Gorman's "red supply"? Casey would pull her story into shreds. But, to Mrs. Thornton's amazement, Casey asked no questions. He looked calmly at her outstretched hand.

"Freeborn's story is altogether different," he said.

Mrs. Thornton's hand dropped and her lips fell apart; she looked a gaping astonishment. Casey settled down in his chair and spoke slowly and gravely and with a careful choice of words.

"Now, madam, allow me to tell you a story, and you may correct me if I make mistakes."

Some years ago, in an aristocratic neighborhood in the south, there was a girl and a boy who loved each other dearly. They had played together since childhood. The girl was high-spirited and beautiful, but a good girl, and a boy steady. He adored her. They grew up together. Then, suddenly, she married a wealthy young man and went to live in a large city. Life was good. She loved her husband and her child, and was proud of her beautiful home. She exerted herself socially, for she was ambitious, and often she was asked. Then she met a young man of plausible exterior and the heart of a devil. She took her first snuff of "know," in order to exhilarate herself. Gradually she changed until she was utterly changed, and finally, she left her husband and her child for the devil because he could give her "snow." He took her—she was destitute and suffering.

Then her old playmate searched her out and placed her in a sanitarium. The cure of such as she. When she left their care, she said she was cured. The girl was dead and her husband would have nothing to do with her. Then the playmate took her to a far western state, where her story was not known. She bought land and became a cattleman. It was for her sake that she came away from her own kind, that she might be away from temptation and live healthfully. They were happy there together—she was like a girl he used to know. Then great things happened on the land he had bought, and on the land all about him—there was oil in that soil. Men came there everywhere to reap a harvest—and not only through oil. There were thousands of men, triumphant or dejected or eager, thronging the desert. Casey was for evil things. A town sprang up in a night.

Then to the ranchhouse came a man who had interests in oil. It was not an interest in a commodity that netted him many thousands. He himself would have none of it. He, and others joined with him, were at the head of a vast enterprise and they employed hundreds of agents. This man was a confidence inspiring appearance, a prosperous business man. He was the owner of the ranchhouse. He entered into business negotiations with the owner of the ranchhouse. The woman found him gallant and charming, and, on his departure, he presented her with a little gold box of face powder and a tiny powder puff, for it was her habit to powder her nose frequently and laugh about it. Soon she found that sniffing at the powder gave her pleasure. She knew soon that the long tentacles of the octopus had coiled upon her. But she continued to sniff until the powder was all gone and she was craving the oil craving.

Then there came to her very secretly a handsome young man. At that time he called himself Van Buren, of late, his name has been Gaylord. He was more of the powder, done up in tiny packets. Soon he persuaded her to meet with him, she could lead men to try the powder, for she was beautiful and then she could have all the powder she wished for her own use. She went with him and they plied their trade in large cities far away. She went without a word or a line for the man who had done so much for her. But she suspected the truth immediately, for, in her room, he found a bit of the powder rolled into a ball and thrown aside, and to it clung some of the powder. A great rage and a tremendous purpose took possession of that man. He instituted a search for her, but his purpose was greater than merely to find her—he meant to strike at the head of the octopus, at its eye, the only vulnerable spot.

Shimmy Eyed Turpin Is Star in New Comic

He's Funny, but Pathos
—Not So Good!

"WHERE IS MY WANDERING BOY THIS EVENING?"
Produced by Mack Bennett.
Directed by F. Richard Jones.
Presented at the Randolph.

THE CAST:
The Village Shook, Ben Turpin
The Girl Who Loved Him, Frieda Renger
A Woman Who Did Not Love Him, Miss
Mother Who Did, Dot Farley
The Village Hired Man, Jim Finlayson

By Mae Tinee.

Good morning!

Nobody but Mack Bennett, of course, would ask, "Where is my wandering boy this evening?" Others in accents wild might shriek, "Where is my child?" or still others from the fastnesses of the heart ask timidly, "Where is my wandering boy to-night?" But only Mack Bennett, with praying eyes and wailing wail, would come on stage, handsome, delectable, with his eyes and his mouth, and his politeness to be told where was his wandering boy this evening.

One will always believe that this director made Mabel Normand, Fatty Arbuckle, and Edna Purviance, and in making Charlie Chaplin, in the old days when all worked in the Keystone comedies. Surely now he is doing his bit by Ben Turpin. (Who it may be said, is also doing his bit for Bennett.)

There isn't anything in this comedy except just everything. There are mother's cross-eyed son; mother, who takes after him as to the eyes, who loves him; the beautiful country girl, who also loves him; the hired help (male), who does not; the woman who comes from the city over a pavement strewn with broken hearts to try to love him; the lady who, in the bedroom scene, the delirious scene, in which Mr. Turpin in a large fancy nightgown lights over flower strewn fields picking daisies to huff at his deceiver; the terrible storm—everything; name it and you can find it.

At times Mr. Turpin is exceedingly funny, at times not so much so, at times not at all. Some effort has been made to duplicate the Chaplin under current of pathos. Not so good.

F. R. Jones, who has been accused of knowing nothing about comedies, has quite a lot of fun at "Where Is My Wandering Boy This Evening?"

CLOSEUPS

Monte Blue's passion for realism is said to have landed him in the hospital with a broken rib and several bad bruises. They were filming a picture from a story by Peter B. Kyne. The script called for a boat containing Mr. Blue to be cast upon a rocky shore. He said:

"I will not have a double—no double—no double—let me do it myself. So on the rocks they threw him and broke his ribs."

Much consternation among the Los Angeles folks. Mr. Fairbanks' next picture, "The Thief of Bagdad," requires a light brown skin. The director, shirking for realism, is it has been said, insisting that all players use the sun instead of a makeup box. The extras don't mind being brown all over, but the "leads" only want the brown to reach so far. And there you are. (Probably are not.)

Every time the film dragged the title intrigued me and I got another laugh.

ALSO, while at the Randolph don't miss "Shimmy Eyed" a picture journey through the South seas.

Going back to Mr. Turpin, he's popular this week in "Home Made Movies," an old release, at the Chicago. Miss Haver is with him.

In "Where Is My Wandering Boy This Evening?" Frieda Renger in the simple country girl, looking and acting considerably like Miss Haver, and Miss Hurler—who will, I suspect, be good-bye to vamps in a big feature some time soon—"The Woman Who Didn't Love Him." She does some bits of quiet, effective acting.

The comedy is well put on and has some subtitles that may be said to be noted for their literary solemnity.

Harvard Club Gives

Scholarships to Six

The Harvard club of Chicago has awarded five scholarships of $350 each for the school year of 1923-24 to graduates of Illinois high schools. Recipients of the scholarships are:

HARVEY L. STAYKEE, Deerfield, who led his class at the Deerfield-Shielda high school.

JAMES J. PASSARELLI, 1835 West Erie street, Chicago, a graduate of McKinley high school.

WORRELL V. COOMBS, 228 South Main street, Carthage, Ill., president of his class in Carthage high school.

The graduate scholarship of the club, awarded graduates of Illinois colleges who wish to continue their studies at Harvard, was awarded to Dwight J. Lord of the East Denbire street, Chicago, a graduate of the University of Illinois, who plans to enter Harvard medical school.

Boys Reveal Hearts in Letters Written for Sox Game Seats

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Today I'm picking the hundred lucky boys who will have free seats at the White Sox-New York game on Friday, July 13, and it's a job. I tell you! Such a lot of letters have been sent to me by the boys, and every body's as anxious to see the game!

Some, I know, will win, because nobody could have a better time than they will have—just read this letter from Ralph G.:

"Dear Sally—Do I like ball games? Well, I guess I do—I am a big boy for 10 years, and every evening I take all the boys that want to play out in the vacant lot and teach them how to play. I can't play ball now. The reason I haven't been to the games is because I haven't the money—I'll watch the paper to see if I'm a winner."

F. P. is a winner too. Here's his letter:

"I like baseball best of all—it's the greatest sport and I play pretty good, too—a couple of years ago the fellows in our neighborhood called me a sissy because I couldn't play ball—now they call me Babe Ruth's brother. Gee, Sally, I'd like to see that White Sox-Yank game."

Now attention, everybody! While I'm busy picking winners for this baseball party on July 13, I'm arranging another for the week after. I'll have all the places made some time tomorrow, and I'll tell you about it on Sunday. So watch the Sunday paper, not only for the names of the lucky ones this time, but for full details about the big new party, too!

Men Should Wear Corsets,

Toronto Osteopath Says

New York, July 5.—Men really should wear corsets because they lift heavy loads, Dr. F. P. Milard of Toronto told the American Osteopathic association at its convention here today.

"The only hope for the fat man, while the osteopathic physician is correcting his posture, his spinal curvature, his diet, and toning up his circulation and nerves, is the corset," he asserted.

Dr. S. L. Scofield of Dallas, Texas, said nearly half the people in America suffered from foot trouble. He blamed extreme fashions.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question: Miss Ruth Rogers, 2046 Cleveland avenue, Chicago, was awarded $5.

The Question.

Was the Fourth too noisy, not noisy enough, or just right?

Where Asked.

Michigan avenue, at Randolph street.

The Answers.

Mrs. S. S. Beaumont, 861 Edgecomb place, housewife—We live in a residence district, and we thought it was just about right—we had just enough noise to let us know it was the Fourth. We have three boys, one 12 and twins, 16, and they certainly enjoyed it. Boys like that sort of thing.

Robert Belandier, 3448 Hutchinson street (25 years old)—It sure was noisy. There were more fireworks than last year, and more noise. I sure shot off a lot of fireworks this year. Bought them at Dunning, cheap. I like it when there are lots of fireworks and lots of noise—just like war.

Miss Vina Lindstrom, 2575 North Clark street, student—It was too noisy where I was. I live right near the North Chicago hospital, and some thoughtless person threw something right beside the hospital. A woman went into hysterics when it exploded. Why, it was awful! That's carrying fun too far.

Morton Barnard, 1545 East 60th street, student—The Fourth is again becoming more racket than patriotic demonstration. They know how to make a noise, whether they know what the day stands for or not. Many people are going through life maimed just because of fireworks.

Mrs. Angie Haines, 817 Addison street, housewife—It was all right for us. We took our two children out to the beach. Father went to Forest Park for some toy caps for the little boy's toy pistol, and that boy sure had five dollars' worth of fun out of it. Dangerous fireworks shouldn't be allowed in the city.

Ziegfeld Beauties Rabel at Wearing Numbers Upon Arms

New York, July 5.—[Special.]—Just as everybody feared would happen, thirty of the "Follies" girls assembled on the stage of the New Amsterdam theater and signed a round robin protest to Mr. Ziegfeld against being compelled to wear arm numbers with numbers, as their admirers in the audience can identify them without trouble. The idea was suggested by Burns Mantle and promptly adopted by Mr. Ziegfeld.

Lee and J. J. Shubert have instituted a bonus plan at the Winter Garden, by the terms of which all members of the chorus of "The Passing Show of 1923" will receive at Christmas sums ranging from 1 to 10 per cent of their total salaries for the run of the production to that date. The bonus will be distributed according to the number of scenes in which each girl appears. The bonuses, determined upon the bonus plan, realizing the appeal of "The Passing Show" depends in great measure on the members of the chorus.

"Poppy," the new musical show in which Madge Kennedy is to star, goes into rehearsal next Monday. Philip Goodman, who is making the production, announced the cast in support of Miss Kennedy will include W. C. Fields, Jimmie Barry, Luella Gear, and Richard (Skeets) Gallagher.

Dorothy Dalton May

Act Melodrama Here

William A. Brady desires to revive in Chicago the melodrama called "Drifting," and has invited Miss Dorothy Dalton to assume its leading role. Miss Dalton, known chiefly as a patriotic figure in the movies, was last seen here in the feature, the dramatic character in Mr. Brady's opulent spectacle of "Aphrodite." If she takes kindly to Mr. Brady's proposal, "Drifting" will be staged at one or another of the local theaters late in August or early in September.

The play, written by John Colton and Daisy H. Andrews, was first acted in the east eighteen months ago, with Miss Alice Brady and Robert Warwick in the parts of chief importance. Shortly after its opening Miss Brady was compelled to retire from the cast because of illness, and Miss Helen Menken succeeded her. Both played to high acclaim, and the melodrama, which deals with certain adventures of a highly valuable theatrical property, but for some reason it was never brought to Chicago. Both Miss Brady and Miss Menken have since found success in other plays; hence the desire for Miss Dalton's services.

Miss Fannie Bries, still awaiting the new play which is being made ready for her use next season, has extended her stay in the varieties and will come to town on the headlines at the Palace Music hall next week. She has been adventuring of late in the far west.

Salvation Army Camp

Opens Today with 500

All aboard for Glen Ellyn and the Salvation Army camp! Five hundred children and their mothers left this morning for Glen Ellyn to celebrate the opening of the camp. They are all poor children from the submerged city districts. One hundred will remain at camp a week.

After that each week a new group will be sent to enjoy the benefits of the fresh air and food. Physical examinations of the children, in accordance with the new regulations established by the city health department, will be conducted weekly, that no carriers of contagious diseases may find their way into camp.

Envoys and Mrs. Sydney Austin will have charge of the camp this summer, and numerous officers, including Commissioner William Pearl, will attend the opening today.

Shelby Fight Walloped at Winona Lake

Sen. Fess Voices Fear of Run Ship War.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

Winona Lake, Ind., July 5.—The Dempsey-Gibbons fight was given a wallop in resolutions adopted this evening by the Christian citizenship conference.

Other features of the session were an address by Senator Simon D. Fess of Ohio, in which he declared that American complications with Europe regarding liquor ships might lead to war, and a plea made during the afternoon by Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill, Illinois' only woman legislator, that women be given a greater share of recognition by the great parties.

The fight resolution was presented by Dr. James McCall of Pittsburgh, head of the National Reform association. It read:

"Whereas America has been called once more to read about it in witness a demoralizing pugilistic contest for the world's championship with Europe, and that, too, on the Fourth of July, a day sacred to the emphasis of the factors that have made us a great Christian nation and the things that make for our future welfare, therefore,

"Resolved, that we express thanks to the Christian conscience of America that has driven the prize fight shuffling into an obscure and remote section of the country.

"Resolved, that we protest against devoting the birthday of our nation to the debauching of the nation's manhood.

"Resolved, that we believe all prize fighting ought to be consigned with gambling, prostitution, and the saloon to the practices outlawed by an enlightened, progressive, and Christian nation."

"President Harding has appealed to the women to work against formation of a third party," said Mrs. O'Neill. "I think the time has come when the women should demand of the old parties that they give women official position in the management of the parties."

"Women ought to get together in active policies and seek the expression of their will in the laws of the land," and it had to be understood the mind of men. In the last Illinois legislature, when we were asking for the passage of the Sheppard-Towner bill, the men opposed it on the ground it was federal legislation—and straightway voted for other bills that were federal.

"The men were busy appropriating money for armoires and monuments, but shied at appropriating money for the relief of women in industry."

"Women have always been active in the churches, but the churches have been unwilling to give them official recognition."

Society Out in Force for Carpenter-Davis Wedding Today

The wedding this afternoon of Miss Cecilia Fairbank Carpenter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Carpenter, 1544 Astor street, and Dr. Nathan Davis III, will draw a large part of society to the city, for both the bride and the bridegroom belong to two of Chicago's most representative families and are among the most popular young people in society.

The service is to be read by the Rev. Dr. Norman B. Hutton at 3 o'clock in the Carpenter's church. Following the ceremony there will be a reception at the Carpenter residence. Miss Cecilia Carpenter is to be her sister, Miss Cecilia Carpenter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laird Bell of Hubbard, Wis., who will be flower girl. Miss Elizabeth Baker, Miss Eleanor Bradley, Miss Mary Wheeler, Miss Emma Marquis, Miss Clara Hollis, and Miss Margaret Kelley will be bridesmaids.

During Davis will act as his brother's best man and ushering will be Benjamin Carpenter Jr. and Fairbank Carpenter, brothers of the bride; Walter Augur, Arthur Dixon, Watson K. Blair, Robert Whiting, Robert S. Sturges, and Dr. Eugene Cary.

Not all of society will be in town this afternoon. The initial party at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Cuddey in Lake Forest will attract many. The proceeds of the show, which opens at 2:30 o'clock and continues until 6, will go to the home hospital in Lake Forest. The show will be continued tomorrow from 11 to 6.

Miss Beatrice Michelson has gone to California with her father, Prof. Albert A. Michelson, who is making some investigations on Mount Wilson observatory at Pasadena. Miss Michelson, who has spent two years at Vassar, will sail in September with her mother to spend a year abroad. Next week Miss Michelson and the youngest daughter, Dorothy, who attends school at Burlington, will join Mrs. Michelson and Miss Beatrice in France, all returning at the end of the summer. The eldest Michelson daughter, Madeleine, now Mrs. Philip Maher of 242 West Walton place, and her husband are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son on July 2 at St. Luke's hospital. Mrs. Maher and the baby will spend the summer with Mrs. Michelson and Dorothy at Deserates Island, Ont., Canada.

After from Lake Geneva brings the news of many jolly house parties there over the Fourth. Mr. and Mrs. William Wright Jr., who will leave in middle of the month for California, had with them a party of friends and relatives, including their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Wright. Their daughter, Mrs. James R. O'Neil, who is spending the early summer at the lodge on the Wisconsin lake, had as guests Mr. and Mrs. John P. Hager of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. O'Neil and children will go to Harbor Point, Mich., this month. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lake of Hubbard Woods, Capt. Krebs Beebe, and Charles R. Wilson of Chicago spent the day with Mrs. John R. Wilson at Lake Geneva residence. Mrs. Wilson's son-in-law, Capt. Krebs Beebe, and Mr. and Mrs. John R. Wilson and their son, John Wilson, of Hartford, Conn., will arrive July 10 to spend the rest of the summer at Lake Geneva.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Sullivan, John Sullivan, and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Swift were guests over the holiday of Mrs. Homer A. Sullivan at Lake Geneva.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Peterkin had with them Aldis J. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. William N. Pelous's guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Hale Thompson and Gail Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Critchfield, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Heisler, and Miss Dorothy Heisler, all of Chicago, were with the Augustus D. Currier guests over the Fourth at their Lake Geneva residence.

Mrs. Eugene Frisco, who has been spending her parents last week, Mr. and Mrs. S. Chamberlain and Miss Roberts of 1411 State parkway, has left on her way to join Maj. Frisco in Cherbourg early next week. They will spend the summer in Switzerland.

ANSWER TO WHAT'S WRONG HERE

It may be crazy, but it will be but a temporary act of mental aberration. The man in a man demands that he be treated quite as charmingly as any other man. He may resemble a scoundrel when at home, but wife should be attractive always.

Pyorrhea

REALLY effective weapon against Pyorrhea has at last been found. This weapon is the new anti-septic, Zonite. In connection with its use by the general public a dental authority has recently written as follows:

"If you can educate the American people in oral prophylaxis through the daily use of Zonite you will greatly aid the dental profession in their efforts to control pyorrhea."

The above letter speaks for itself. Scented, pleasant tasting mouth washes have little or no germicidal power and fail to kill the germs that cause pyorrhea. By standard laboratory tests Zonite has greater germicidal power than pure Carbolic Acid, yet is non-poisonous, non-irritating and perfectly safe to use.

A teaspoonful of Zonite in a quarter of a glass of water softens the mouth and eliminates breath odors.

If you wish to protect yourself against Pyorrhea, throw away scented, pleasant tasting mouth washes, use your dental regularly, and use Zonite at least once a day.

HOW TO BE HAPPY THOUGH MARRIED

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Perhaps because of the independence of the modern woman and the manner in which it has gone to her head sometimes, and the consequent criticism directed at her particularly as a disturber of the matrimonial peace, we are inclined to attach more blame to the feminine sex than is due her.

Brutality toward women is associated in the average mind with the hairy ape type of individual, usually not considered as a member of the society in which we travel.

Before me lies a letter from a wife, a young woman of 24 married to a man of 35. She has been married five years, and there are two children.

"I can honestly say," she writes, "since we have been married he has never once taken me to a single place of entertainment. Not one. Not even to the movies. I have not a nickel for myself, as he pays for everything. He goes out almost every night himself. Well, I've been trying to make the best of a bad bargain for the children's sake. But he struck me across the face the other day when I interfered with his attempted beating of the little boy in an unwarranted rage. What am I to do?" she inquires. "I would get a divorce, only I don't believe in it."

Sometimes the problems with which I am confronted depress me beyond measure—none so heavily as the sorrows of the meek and hard working woman tied to a brutally selfish man. You cannot advise divorce, nor separation, knowing not whether in spite of the brutality there still survives some peculiar flare of devotion in the woman's heart.

Which reveals the existence of a social circle where wife beating is viewed with composure, as the exercise of a natural and indubitable right possessed by husbands.

Well, it was not so long ago that same opinion as to marital property was next to universal the world over, and in literature far from ancient we have record of women who felt neglected and unloved if not subjected at least to occasional chastisement by their lords and masters.

The idea that women must not be struck at all by men, no matter what the provocation, is entirely modern and apparently lacks approach to general acceptance even here.

When one woman was on her social welfare rounds of a certain tenement district, a door was opened to her by a historically disheveled creature whose half-closed and blackened eyes bore evidence of a recent collision with her lord and master's hefty right arm.

"I am Miss Blank," announced the visitor.

"Miss? My God, but it must be awful to be an old maid," pitted the other one.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., July 5.—[Special.]—The ambassador of France and Mme. Jusserand today entertained at luncheon Gen. Gouraud, Lieut. Count de Vibre, the general's aide de camp, and members of the embassy staff.

Gen. Gouraud, who is stopping at the Hamilton, accompanied by his aide, Lieut. de Vibre; Maj. Mangins and Capt. Bodine, was the guest of honor at a dinner given by the military attaché of the French embassy, Col. G. A. L. Dumont, this evening at the Hamilton. Invited to meet the distinguished Frenchman were American generals and army chiefs now in Washington.

Gen. Gouraud received the veterans of various organizations this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the home of Col. Dumont on Connecticut avenue.

Senator and Mrs. Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin have gone to the Battle Creek sanitarium, where they will spend some time.

Bobbie and I went to visit his grandmother, who lived in the country. Bobbie was told he must never leave the barnyard gate open, as that would let the chickens out. He seemed puzzled to do it, however, and more than once. At last I punished him by putting him to bed for one hour.

A few days later mother came in and said: "Well, the chickens are out again."

I started on a hunt for Bobbie, but could not find him. Finally I went to his room and there he was in bed.

Before I had a chance to say a word he said: "Yes, I let 'em out again."

Paul's mother desired to awaken in him an interest in music, and took him to a musical given by a neighborhood institution where boys and girls he knew would take part. After a few numbers he got uneasy and it was necessary for his mother to remind him to sit quiet several times.

For a few moments he did and then began putting his hands in one pocket after another energetically.

His mother turned to him and said sharply: "What are you looking for?"

He answered, "I ain't looking for nuthin', but I hope to goodness I find something."

Bay City, Mich., July 5.—[Special.]—Miss Nina M. West of Port Huron will be Michigan's woman member of the associate national committee under the plan recently established by Republican party leaders. James E. Davidson of this city, Michigan national committeeman, sent announcement of his choice today to John T. Adams, chairman of the Republican national committee.

Miss West is now vice chair. (G. M. Hays, pastor of the Republican state central committee, but will resign. She will be succeeded by Mrs. Orrin T. Bolt of Muskegon, the appointment being made by Chairman Bert D. Cady, chairman of the Republican state central committee.

Tired Business Men Get "Soul Vacations"

Tired business men of Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, and other nearby states will take a "vacation for the soul" during July and August at St. Mary's Mission house, Techny, Ill. The occasion is a "retreat" conducted under the auspices of the Society of the Divine Word at Techny.

A "retreat" lasts three days, during which the tired business men will have rest and relaxation and will listen to the devotional talks and prayers. The business man has to keep absolute silence during the entire three days. He is not permitted to speak during the "retreat." The dates are July 12-15, July 19-22, and Aug. 1-4. Similar "retreats" for women are scheduled at St. Ann's Mission house at Techny on July 12-15, July 19-22, July 26-29, Aug. 2-5, Aug. 9-12, Aug. 16-19, and Aug. 23-26.

Judge Unable to Find Home for Aged Pair

Unless some good Samaritan leads the way, the time will soon come when Frank Stone, 78 years old, and Margaret Stone, 72, his wife of nearly half a century, must part. County Judge Edmund K. Jarocki has been unable to find a place where both may spend their last few years together.

Stone's mind wanders and in his feeble condition he needs institutional care. Judge Jarocki and Dr. Francis P. Gerty, superintendent at the Psychopathic hospital, said. Unless a place can be found where both will be admitted, Stone must be placed in an institution for the insane.

The case was called again yesterday and was continued until next Thursday. Stone and his wife were cared for in the meantime by Mrs. William Fulger, 4349 Warren avenue.

MR. WM. A. BUESCHER, Manager of the Lake Shore Drive Hotel and, until recently, assistant manager of the Ritz-Carlton, has had such a wealth of experience in notable hotels as is seldom the good fortune of any one man. He has been associated with Sheppard's Hotel in Cairo, the Hotel des Anglais in Monte Carlo, the Champs Elysees in Paris, the Piccadilly in London, and the Ritz-Carlton in New York. With this fund of cosmopolitan experience, Mr. Buescher adds a very evident distinction to the already unique character of the Lake Shore Drive.

Stake Your Life on Existence of Deity, Camp Meeting Told

BY LOUISE JAMES BARRETT.

"Sermons that our parents listened to were mere exhortations, but sermons of today must answer questions the intelligent people are asking about religion," declared the Rev. Edmund D. Roper last night at the Des Plaines camp meeting.

"We can't prove the existence of a God," he added, "for there is no proof. The only way to learn whether there is a God is not to attempt to prove it, but to stake your life on it. By that I mean belief will help you to find God."

Revival of the "class meeting," or old-fashioned prayer meeting, marked the morning at the Methodist camp. The class meeting had not been held for a number of years and the revival was greeted with enthusiasm. The Rev. F. F. Farmiloe, pastor of the Auburn Park Methodist church, was in charge of the meeting. Mr. Farmiloe is more than 80 years old and has been attending camp meetings for fifty-one years. The Rev. William S. Vorty also was there. He is more than 90 and boasts of not having missed a meeting since their inauguration sixty-four years ago.

Today is women's day at the camp and the Foreign and Home Missionary societies will observe anniversary.

WEDDINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Picard of the Virginia hotel announce the marriage yesterday in Chicago of their daughter, Paulette Daniels, to Bradford Hill Whitting, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hill Whitting of 1555 North Dearborn avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Whitting have left for an eastern motor trip.

Announcement is made of the marriage last Saturday of Miss Gertrude Penning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Penning of 3718 North Paulina street, to Fred Garner of Detroit. The wedding took place at St. Andrew's church and was followed by a breakfast at the Edgewater Beach hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Garner will live in Detroit.

LINK IRRIGATION AND ELECTRICITY IN NEWEST PLAN

BY SCRUTATOR

President Harding's emphasis on the economies of linking hydro-electric development, irrigation, and navigation, in his far western speeches, raises the question that the President realizes that the day is not far distant when irrigation will become a by-product of power development, reversing the present order of things.

Study of the present status of arid land reclamation points that way. It even suggests that in future if the two interests should conflict, power development should be given precedence, but for irrigation usually insures the better development of power possibilities. Some time ago, as a result of diversion of water for irrigation, but as a rule much of the water courses are those with least power value.

While future irrigation projects and power development can go hand in hand, there are canyons in the west, given to railroad rights of way, that will some day be reclaimed for storage and power, the roads elevating their tracks.

Something like $100,000,000 of public funds, mostly raised from sale and rental of the venial public domain, have been used for federal irrigation. It is estimated that land values have been increased nearly $500,000,000. It is reasonable to expect that the money will be paid eventually, but some figures brought out in a recent review of reclamation progress by the National Bank of Commerce suggest that for the present, at least, reclamation work is at high tide, while the incentive to increase agricultural output has waned since Roosevelt's day. Unpaid dues of security on government irrigated lands increased threefold in the two years following the 1920 deflation, and congress had to step in and suspend the rule requiring water to be cut off after a year of arrears.

The comparatively low cost of food in many western cities, even in the peak years after the war, was a reflection of the wall of long hauls and freight rates surrounding many irrigation areas. When the government decided to reclaim, the cheaper projects had all been developed by private enterprise, and those carried out by the government represent the cream of the remaining possibilities. Only the increasing demand for electric power, required by high labor and fuel costs, would seem to afford sufficient incentive for development of the higher cost projects.

With $125,000,000 worth of transmission lines under construction, and more in prospect in view of cheaper copper, now reeled from the spring peak, this factor must look good to the west. In the next five years the Electrical World anticipates $500,000,000 worth of power line construction. When it is remembered that the copper mines are located generally in the regions needing irrigation, it is not too difficult to see how much the future of the west is bound up with electrical progress.

Of itself irrigation can never amount to anything more than a minor factor in American production. Americans may well take pride in the workmanship, timing and speed of the engineers who put over the big projects in the west, and the 2,700,000 acres thus made available to the plow, added to something like 18,000,000 acres irrigated by private capital do not amount to 4 per cent of the improved acreage of American farms, and not over 5 per cent of the total country can be irrigated at all.

The function of irrigated farming will be to supplement the population and wealth that will depend mainly upon the electrical development in the west.

The New York Times.

NEW YORK, July 5.—(Special.)—

Financial attention was largely diverted from the stock market and the trade today by a sudden advance in the Bank of England discount rate, the first change in almost a year. A little while ago when Wall Street was interpreting every market as a prediction of business trouble, the rise in the London rate from 3 per cent to 4 per cent probably has been discussed as another blow to our expansion. It was not so taken today. As a matter of fact, this rise in the Bank of England rate was a perfectly natural consequence of the widening disparity between money rates in London and New York. London has had to face the American borrowing drive in a London bank rate 1/2 per cent below our own, and an open market discount rate more than 1 per cent below New York's.

Change Helps Starting.

The result of this borrowing by New York from London has been seen in the persistent fall of sterling exchange. In the face of such persistent evidence of discommodities, there is no reason whatever to suppose the higher London bank rate to be a harbinger of disaster to the pound. The announcement of the bank rate was followed today by a rise in three months' discount on London's open market from 5 per cent to 5 1/2, but it did not stop the decline in sterling. Yesterday's low rate was $4.55 1/2, the lowest of the year; it touched $4.54 1/2 around noon today and closed at $4.55 1/2. The Bank of England's action had much more immediate effect on sterling exchange at Paris, where it rose nearly a full franc to the pound.

Wall Stocks Then Say Yes.

Today's New York stock market repeated the action of several recent days; it was made up first of an aggressive selling movement, rather transparently the work of professional operators for the decline. When active buyers had been forced down a point or so, buying resumed as a considerable sale came suddenly into the market, and another lull was the result of the most part of the day.

RESERVE BANKS SHOW EXPANSION OF LOAN ACCOUNT

The weekly report of the federal reserve system is chiefly reflective of the active financial settlements, which necessitate temporarily larger credits. The consolidated statement of the twelve banks shows loans expanded $154,876,000, bills bought declined $11,191,000, total bills increased $10,685,000, government securities increased $10,685,000, and currency in circulation increased $10,685,000. Total deposits increased $10,685,000, with members' deposits increasing $10,685,000. Total circulation increased $10,685,000. The ratio of reserves fell to 74.4 from 76.3 per cent in the preceding week.

NEW YORK BANK SHOWS LOAN DECLINE

The Chicago bank shows loans declined $10,000,000, bills bought increased $1,191,000, total bills increased $10,685,000, government securities increased $10,685,000, and currency in circulation increased $10,685,000. Total deposits increased $10,685,000, with members' deposits increasing $10,685,000. Total circulation increased $10,685,000. The ratio of reserves fell to 74.4 from 76.3 per cent in the preceding week.

FARMER-LABOR SPLITS; NO PARTIES OF
Radicals Kick Out of Gro
Delegates to the party's convention voted to repudiate the Farmer-Labor party, or at least Thursday at a conference of radical minority groups at Car Men's hall. The decision, a victory for conservatives who had refused to participate further in the conference when representatives of ultra-radical elements, led by William Z. Foster, and Charles E. Ruthenberg, control, came only after session of heated oratory.
So decisive was the vote that the regular even division of the final action to the committee of the waiting the result in an effort was made to meet with the "Reds" in the providing for a conference and negotiate with them. Defeat of this the back of a filibuster by John G. Kennedy, chairman.
Quicker Hint of Split
The "Red" factions did not wait. F. H. Shuler, a socialist, who took against Henry Ford, with others of the emergency machine, watched the intensely, apparently. But John C. Fitzpatrick, of Chicago, who by the farmer element, snatched any hint of a last move, August the Chicago Farmers' union have returned recently from the Third International Moscow, warned of a division within the party's ranks.
"Let's all get together," he pleaded. "Evening John Fitzpatrick, Sam Gompers is plotting the Chicago Federation of new."
"I don't know it," retorted, half rising from his Foster Ballots to "We want the same thing, but believe in the burden of the regulars."
"I felt all along the conference to failure," said referred to the Foster or revolutionary brothers."
They tried to swallow the balled. No unit led propagandists and advocates to overturn the government in America."
Buck relinquished the position of his party, certain the "usurpers." the attempted amalgamation with a mad ending that perhaps the time is for all minority groups to "Foster knew we could this Third International said. "He knew we were for absorption by an which travels with Russia."
Questions Foster's but I question his meeting. I believe he packed our conference trial like a gunman, and name of our party for the purpose of demonstrating political action is imprudent to shove the not that the way of the end is the only way. I do that—not so long as we are a unionists and Americans think differently the result of perhaps consequence in radical developed by the conference believe, was the decision break between and Foster.
Rebuke by Fingers
"I've fought shoulder with Foster for years in strike and in other battle in his rebuke of the leader. "I was principally for the bringing of Fred and I have highest respect for him."
"But he has come in upon this party, these men who were not tolerable—was it not so that?"
